CONFERENCE CHANGES

Rev. E. M. Mills Appointed to Pastorate of Towanda Methodist Church.

ELMIRA DISTRICT TRANSFERS.

Central New York Conference Came to a Close in Syracuse on Monday Evening — Local Church Favored With Very Prominent Minister.

Anxiety could be felt in the atmosphere of the Centenary Methodist Episcopal church in Syracuse Monday evening when a congregation that packed every nook and corner of the auditorium awaited with bated breath the announcement of the bishop's ministerial appointments of the members of the Central New York M. E. conference.

It was deferred until the last of the evening's long program, and before he read the list of 213 preachers and the churches at which they were to serve during the coming year Bishop Cranston delivered an address.

In this he asserted that he had come to the conference without a prejudice and had canvassed the interests of every charge with the presiding elders before coming to any decisions.

Hands Off Former Charge.

The bishop urged upon the pastors who were going from one charge to another the importance of absolutely keeping hands off the charge that had been left.

Appointments for Elmira District.

Following is the complete list of appointments for the Elmira district, which includes all of Bradford county West of the Susquehanna river:

Beaver Dams and Townsend, Rev. E. B. Rogers; Canton, Rev. P. J. Williams; Chemung, Rev. D. E. Stiles; East Canton, Rev. C. C. Gustin; Elmira, Centenary, Rev. H. B. Reddick; Elmira, Epworth, Rev. D. W. Smith; Elmira, Hedding, Rev. G. B. Gallagher; Elmira, First, Rev. A. J. Saxe; Elmira, Oakwood, Rev. F. M. Windnagle; Elmira, Riverside, Rev. H. J. Andrews; Erin and Breesport, Rev. E. J. Ebert; Leona and Wetona, Rev. W. A. Stackhouse; Liberty Corners and Asylum, Rev. J. S. Taylor; Mainesburg, Rev. W. H. S. Loller; Monroeton, Rev. G. B. Goodrich; North Towanda and Luthers Mills, Rev. W. P. Miller; Redding Centre, Rev. G. S. Transue; Rutland, Rev. J. S. Miller; Towanda, Rev. E. M. Mills; Troy, Rev. H. B. Allen.

Towanda Favored.

Towanda was certainly favored in the matter of an appointment, for the Rev. E. M. Mills is one of the best known, and most prominent workers in Methodism. He is not a stranger to the local congregation with whom he will labor, nor to the people of Towanda in general, for he has been here many times.

Rev. Mr. Mills is distinguished indeed. He has been presiding elder of the Elmira district, also of the Geneva district, besides being pastor of the most important charges in the entire conference.

He was made assistant secretary of the Twentieth Century Thank Offering society which succeeded in raising $20,000,000 for Methodism. For the past couple of years he has been assistant secretary of the Department of Home Missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, with headquarters in Cincinnati, Ohio, doing a splendid work.

Rev. Mr. Mills is without doubt one of the most scholarly and brilliant men in the realms of Methodism. The congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Towanda is fortunate indeed to have him assigned for duty in their midst.

PROHIBITION WAVE.

Nearly 500 Saloons Put Out of Business in Two Weeks in Ohio.

As a result of the Ohio county local option bill, passed by the legislature last winter after a bitter fight—a bill very similar to that just passed by the Indiana legislature, after an even more bitter struggle—16 counties have voted out saloons within the past week, and two the week previous making a total of eighteen counties of the 88 in the state.

When the law was passed, the anti-saloon people said that they would drive the saloon out of Ohio, and the result of the elections thus far held shows that they knew something about the matter when they made the assertion. The elections held thus far have been won by the anti-saloon forces. A dozen or more elections are to be held within the next two weeks, and before the national election in November, it is expected that more than 30 counties will have voted out the saloons.

The territory that voted dry has an estimated population today of more than 400,000 persons, and includes the rich coal fields of the Hocking Valley and the Guernsey county coal fields. The entire tenth Congressional district was voted dry on the same day and within 30 days there will not be a saloon in the five counties which compose it.

Up to the present time 478 saloons have been put out of business in the state, and as their annual tax is $1000 each, a revenue of $478,000 is lost to the state. The number of saloons that are at present paying taxes in the other counties make a total of $684,000 that the state will be deprived of in case they all go dry, and the number of saloons that will be voted out within the next 30 days will bring the amount above the million dollar mark.

The anti-saloon forces are now preparing to invade the cities of the state and will push the issue in Columbus, Dayton and Toledo.

Women Buncoed.

Women in Kane and Coudersport have been flim-flammed by a fairly good-looking maddle-aged woman who sold them a bottle of stuff for the scalp and said she was getting up a class for 20 special treatments of the hair and complexion. It was "absent treatment" she gave, if any; and now the women feel that they have been buncoed in good style. This traveling hair and complexion beautifier took nearly $400 out of Kane and a good round sum out of Coudersport. They will fall back on borax, soap and a coarse towel used with a proper application of muscle as about as good skin and hair food and general beautifier as is offered. It is well to beware of such "treatment" in any county.

Republican Rally at Troy.

Great preparations are being made for the Republican rally to be held at the court house in Troy, on Thursday evening of this week. The speakers will be Hon. Grant R. McClathery of Montgomery, and Hon. J. B. Cessina of Kansas. A fine program of music by the LeRoy band and the Sylvan Quartet will be given, and a large turnout is expected.

Funeral of Miss Eliza Moore.

The funeral of the late Miss Eliza Moore was held at the home of her brother, Joseph Moore, in Towanda township yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and was very largely attended. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

Hearing Thursday.

Douglas Benjamin, who is charged with the murder of his brother-in-law, John W. McCracken, will be given a hearing before 'Squire Orcutt tomorrow, Thursday afternoon, between the hours of 1 and 2 p. m.

ALL PENSIONS ARE GRANTED BY REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE

Republican Congress Passed Liberal Pension Laws and a Republican President Ppproved Them Some Facts For Veterans To Consider Well.

All the pension laws, which are so favorable to the soldiers and their widows, have been passed by a Republican Congress; the policy of the Republican party since the close of the war, has been to be generous and liberal in pensions, to the men and their widows who saved the Union; the policy of the Democratic party, in Congress and out, has been to oppose such liberal pensions; Cleveland, the only Democratic President since the war, said that the "pension roll was honey-combed with fraud" and as a result, he instituted a critical investigation of the pensioners on said roll, dropped many, reduced others, and made it as difficultas possible for soldiers and widows to obtain pensions under the laws.

How many soldiers and widows in this Congressional district lost their pensions or had same reduced by Hoke Smith, Commissioner of Pensions, during the Democratic administration, and Democratic interpretation of the pension laws?

Congress has always been very liberal in passing special or private pension acts to help worthy veterans and their widows, when it was made to appear that such claimant was poor, or the general pension law did not appear to do exact justice, and President Cleveland, a Democrat, is the only President who vetoed such acts after having passed the House and Senate.

At the last session of Congress, the Invalid Pension Committee, the majority of its members being Republican, recommended a bill which contained the names of soldiers and their widows to whom it granted pensions or increased those who already were on the rolls; the House and Senate, both of which are Republican, passed said bill as reported, and Roosevelt, the Republican President, approved it. Who is entitled to the credit?

Judging by past experience, would the Invalid Pension Committee, of the House controlled by the Democrats, have recommended and reported such a bill? Would a Democratic House and Senate have passed such a bill? Would a Democratic President have approved such a bill?

Do the veterans of this county want to submit their claims for pensions or otherwise to a Democratic Committee of a Democratic House?

Do the veterans wish to give a Democratic President a chance to veto their private or other pension bills?

Should the next House be Democratic, by returning a Democrat from this district, how will it affect the soldier and his widow?

Do the veterans and their friends want to aid and abet the party that in the past has been opposed to the soldier and the liberal pension policy of the Republicans?

During the War of the Rebellion the agents and emmissaries of the Confederacy were constantly going about among the Union prisoners of war, confined in the Southern prison pens, and offered liberty and position to any and all of the prisoners who would renounce their allegiance to the Union and the old flag. To the honor and glory of the Union soldier and sailor,but very few accepted the seductive inducements held out. Will the old soldiers be less loyal now to the party which has done and is doing so much for him? Will he be seduced from his allegiance to it by the specious promises of the Democratic candidate for Congress and his friends?

Republican veterans should not be deceived by a Democrat or his friends, who was appointed by a Republican Speaker, on a committee, the majority of whom are Republicans, and because he in this way procured a number of increase of pensions for poor and worthy soldiers, and now undertakes through his friends, to promise special acts of Congress to every soldier who will aid in electing a Democrat to Congress from this district, because he is on the "Invalid Pension Committee."

Mr. Kipp is at present ONE of a committee of 16—9 Republicans and 7 Democrats, BUT HE IS NOT THE COMMITTEE, neither does it follow that he will be on the same committee if re-elected and the House should remain Republican; his appointment on the committee will depend on the Speaker of the House. MR. KIPP'S RE-ELECTION MAY GIVE THE DEMOCRATS A MAJORITY IN THE HOUSE and in that event the Democratic Speaker, whoever he may be, will be guided but very little in the appointment of his committee by the action of Speaker Cannon.

When did the Democratic party become the champion of the soldiers? When did the Democratic party, or the members thereof, become so deeply interested in the Union soldier, his widow, and their pensions?

WHEN and WHY did Mr. Kipp, the Democratic Congressman, become so intensely loyal to, and so very solicitious for the living soldier?

With these reminders of the past of the history of the Democratic party and its acts as to pensions and the soldiers, and the questions asked that are pertinent in determining as to WHOM the veteran and his friends shall vote for FOR CONGRESS, we submit it to all veterans, to all soldiers, and to all who are HONESTLY INTERESTED IN HIS PRESENT AND FUTURE WELFARE.

REPUBLICANS PAINTED OLD TOWANDA BRIGHT RED

ENTHUSIASTIC MASS MEETING

Two Bands Took Part in Parade Which Started Ball a Rolling.

THERE WERE THREE VERY DISTINGUISHED SPEAKERS

Major Alexander McDowell, Hon. James M. Yeager and Hon. Grant R. McClathery Delivered Addresses Urging their Hearers to Support the Straight Republican Ticket—Col. Pratt Received Ovation.

The biggest and most enthusiastic political demonstration ever held in this section, took place in Towanda Monday night, when the Republicans inaugurated a campaign which will long be remembered.

Band music, red fire, singing and impassioned oratory were features of the evening's exercises. Fully 5,000 people witnessed the street parade, and the opera house was not large enough to hold those who clamored for admission, it being necessary to hold an overflow meeting in the main room of the court house.

Special Trains Bring Crowds.

The throngs commenced to assemble as early as 2 o'clock Monday afernoon, all the trains bringing delegations which collected in groups to talk politics. It was not until evening, however, that the big crowd swarmed into town. A special train on the S. and N. Y. about 7 o'clock brought the Laquin Citizens band, and about 300 people from Laquin, Powell and Monroeton.

This train was met at the Washington street station by the reception committee of the Towanda Republican club, and escorted to the court house from where they marched to the foot of Park street and met the special Lehigh train bringing the Athens Republican club and a large delegation of Sayre, Athens, Milan and Ulster voters, a crowd numbering close to 500 people. The Sayre shop band came down on the shop train and met the special train at Park street.

The Parade.

The parade started at the corner of Park street, and moved down Main street in a sea of red fire. Bonfires all along the street helped in the illumination of the thoroughfare.

The column was headed by C. H. Jennings' auto conveying the speakers of the evening, followed by the Laquin band, large delegations of marchers, then the Sayre band, followed by other delegations of marchers. Main street was completely packed from Park to Washington street during the parade, and old people who have spent their lives here agreed it was the largest turnout ever assembled at a political meeting in Towanda.

Firecrackers, tin horns, hurrahs for the candidates, and singing added life to the scene during the parade.

Opera House Packed.

In less than ten minutes after the doors of Keystone opera house were thrown open, every seat was filled, the aisles were packed, and hundreds of people turned away, unable to gain admission. Never before in Towanda had there been such a rush to gain admission to a hall where a political meeting was to be held.

Finding that many people were going away disappointed, the committee in charge of the meeting immediately arranged for an overflow meeting in the court house, and led by the Sayre band, a crowd marched to the temple of justice where they were addressed by Hon. James M. Yeager.

M. E. Chubbuck Made Chairman.

M. M. Spalding, president of the Republican club of Towanda, under whose auspices the meeting was held, called attention in the opera house about 8:30, and the meeting was organized by the election of M. E. Chubbuck as chairman, and R. A. Myer and F. L. Kerrick as secretaries.

Singing by Quartette.

A double quartette composed of Frank Kerrick, Frank Rose, Frank Drislane, W. W. Rooker, Harold Russell, James Phillips, W. J. Fisher and Hulett M. Turner, sang a campaign song, receiving generous applause. They also sang at the conclusion of each address and the selections were features of the evening. Miss Eleanor Morris was accompanist.

Major McDowell Introduced.

Chairman Chubbuck introduced Major Alexander McDowell, chief clerk of the National House of Representatives at Washington, as the first speaker of the evening. Major McDowell has been in public life for nearly 30 years and proved himself competent to speak on the issues of the day. His references to Taft and the achievements of the Republican party brought forth great applause. In touching upon the present congressional situation he called the attention of the voters, and especially the veterans, to the fact that it was a Republican congress which enacted the liberal pension laws which now enable any person with a just claim to secure a pension. He said in part:

"It is not necessary for you to have a pension agent; it is not necesary for you to have a congressman working for your pension. All that is necessary is a just claim, and the Republican committee which is in control of the invalid pensions will see that you get what belongs to you."

Mr. McDowell is an ex-congressman and during his address, while touching upon pension matters, said that while he was a member of the House the pension committee would grant some one in his district a pension and he would be immediately notified. "It was my practice, and it is the practicetice of all congressmen," said Mr. McDowell, "that when he is notified that some one in his district has been granted a pension, to sit down and write to John Smith, "it affords me great pleasure to inform you that I have succeeded in securing a pension for you', when if the truth was but known he did not even know the John Smith, or that he had even applied for a pension."

His address was interspersed with humorous stories, several of which fairly convulsed the large audience. Major McDowell is a clever speaker as well as a convinving one.

Hon. Grant R. McClathery.

Hon. Grant R. McClathery of Norristown, was the second speaker. He expounded Republicanism in a clear and forceful way, and urged the supporting of the Republican ticket from top to bottom. Like Major McDowell, Mr. McClathery paid high compliment to the local candidates for congress, senate and house of representatives. He is a splendid orator, and his address was greatly enjoyed.

Hon. James M. Yeager.

Hon. James M. Yeager of Lewistown, a United States marshall, was the third speaker of the evening. Besides expounding Republicanism of the Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft brand, he paid high tribute to Hon. Moses Shields, and Hon. George Moscrip, whom he knew during their work in the legislature, of which he was also a member. He urged his hearers to support the entire ticket, first, last and all the time. Like the preceding speakers, he was frequently interrupted by prolonged applause.

Colonel Pratt Given Ovation.

Charles C. Pratt of New Milford, Susquehanna county, the Republican candidate from this district, for congress, was present, and while he was not down on the program for a speech he was introduced and as he came to the front of the stage he was tendered an ovation which caused him to smile broadly and address the audience not as ladies and gentlemen, but as "friends."

For 20 minutes he spoke, appealing to the patriotism of the voters, not to their prejudices. "Forget personalities and little grievances, real or fancied," said Mr. Pratt, "and stand by the party which has stood by the people, and made the American nation the greatest of the world." He proved himself an excellent speaker and greatly impressed his hearers.

Close of the Meeting.

Notwithstanding there were four speeches, the audience remained in the theatre until the last word had been spoken. Cheers for Taft and Pratt were heard in different parts of the house as the big crowd filed out.

The special trains for Sayre and Laquin took the people from those and intermediate places to their homes, and at midnight the old town was as quiet as a church.

Mr. Yeager Spoke in Court House.

Keystone Opera House was packed to suffocation, and as there was still a large number who could not gain admittance, an overflow meeting was held in the main court room of the court house. Hon. James M. Yeager of Scranton, was introduced by Hon. Mial E. Lilley, and for 20 minutes he expounded pure Republicanism. He is an easy speaker, quick to get acquainted with his hearers, and his address greatly pleased the good sized audience. Many of his hearers were ladies. The Sayre band played three selections.

Sidelights on the Blowout.

During the wait for the special Lehigh train from Sayre, John Maloney of Wysox, a Democrat from top to bottom, delivered an impromptu address at the corner of Main and Park streets, extolling the merits of the "peerless leader," the "silver tongued orator of the Platte" of other days. Mr. Maloney had hard work making himself heard above the roar and din.

Clinton, Jr., Was There.

Conspicuous figures in last night's great throngs were D. C. DeWitt, the well known attorney, and his young son, DeWitt Clinton DeWitt, Jr. This young man has the distinction of hoisting the first Bryan banner in the county this year, and last night he was with his illustrious father, and the little banner was right with him every minute. Father and son moved about among the Republican politicians in the Ward House lobby, and were given the glad hand on all sides.

PROGRESSIVE WYALUSING.

Business Men and Town Council Are Pushing Brick Pavement.

At the November election Wyalusing borough will vote on the proposition to bond the borough to build a brick pavement, in addition to the work of the same character now begun by the state. As the contract now held by Edward Whalen must be finished this Fall and calls for a pave but 16 feet wide, to leave the balance until Spring would keep the street torn up and result in damage. The borough council have, therefore, acting upon a request of the Wyalusing Business Men's association, decided to enter into a contract with Mr. Whalen to extend the pave to the curb on certain sections of the streets, and will make the formal contract with him after the matter has been ratified by the voters. The council believes itself safe in doing this because 145 taxpayers, or 90 per cent. of those interested, have signed a petition requesting the council to bond the borough for paving.

The Rocket says: "Contractor Whalen commenced grading Main street on Saturday for the brick pavement, and the way his men are getting the dirt from that street to the fill between the bridges in the township, is a caution."

The fact that there are germs in money doesn't prevent the average man from taking a chance at becoming an invalid.

$100 REWARD

Without desiring to trespass in any way upon the duties of those who have in charge the management of our policies I feel constrained to take cognizance of what is only too obvious to all who have any knowledge whatever of what is going on in our local politics. I refer to the wide spread and flagrant use of money in this campaign. Because of this I make the following offer with the hope of at least checking, if not altogether stopping, this grave and criminal abuse of the electorial right.

I therefore offer a reward of one hundred ($100) dollars to any person or persons who will furnish sufficient evidence to indict and convict any person who shall, directly or indirectly, give, or offer to give any gift or reward, money or other valuable consideration, to any elector, with the intent to induce him to vote for any particular candidate or candidates at the elecion to be held November 3, 1908, or who shall directly or indirectly procure or agree to give any such gift, reward, money or other valuable consideration to such elector with the intent aforesaid, or who shall with the intent to influence or intimidate such elector to give his vote for any particular candidate or candiadtes at said election, give, offer or promise to give such elector, any office, place or appointment or employment, or threaten such elector with discharge or dismissal from any office, place, appointment or employment, public or private, then held by him, in case of his refusal to vote for any particular candidate or candidates at said election.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Do the right thing at the right time.

Backache is kidney danger.
Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly.
Cure all distressing, dangerous kidney ills.

Plenty of evidence to prove this.

Albert Joralemon, Exchange street, Troy, Pa., says: "For along time my kidneys were very weak and the least cold I took always caused severe pains throughout my back and loins. On some occasions my back became so lame that I could hardly get about and though I tried several remedies, I was unable to obtain the desired relief. A friend seeing my condition advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box. I used them according to directions and they proved to be exactly as represented, banishing the lameness in my back and entirely correcting the annoyance from the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills can be relied upon and I am glad to give them my endorsement."

Plenty more proof like this from Towanda people. Call at Dr. H. C. Porter's drug store and ask what customers report.

PENNSYLVANIA NEWS.

Happenings All Over the State in Condensed Form.

FOUR COUNTIES REFUSE MONEY

So Far They Have Failed to Apply for Coin Coming to Them Through Holding Uniform Primaries—Other State News.

James Peiffer, a farmer of North Jackson township, Lebanon county, is coining money from his potato crop. He had 20 acres planted and although he thought the crop a partial failure, he raised 1,700 bushels, most of which have been sold at 90 cents per bushel.

The many models of the proposed memorial on the Gettysburg battlefield will be kept in the House caucus room at Harrisburg for some time in order to let the general public see them. Prominent sculptors from all over the country are represented in the collection, but as their names do not appear it cannot be told who sent the models.

Four of the counties of the state have thus far failed to apply for the money coming to them through holding primaries under the uniform primary law. They are Lackawanna, Beaver and Clarion. No reasons have been assigned for this failure, and the state authorities are in the unusual position of being ready to pay with no bills presented.

The Butler Steel works is about to start, but cannot employ nearly all its old hands. The company has, therefore, made a rule that married men shall have preference. The result is that a lot of courtships are being wound up suddenly, and weddings are as plentiful as corn huskings in the olden time. It comes handy to have a girl in such emergencies.

Sparrows a Blessing.

The sparrows which have been so busy about Harrisburg all Summer are now proving themselves to be a real blessing, according to some of the naturalists. It appears that the dry weather has caused the insect pests to swarm on the trees, and the sparrows, having a considerable part of their fare cut off by reason of the dryness of the ground, turned to the maples and other trees and have been waxing fat on scale and their kin.

Because so many South Bethlehem women school teachers are getting otherwise employed School Director L. J. Broughal is agitating a movement to employ male teachers only.

A Bradford man familiarly known as "Catskin" Murray evidently intends to spend the open shooting season hunting for wild game if he can keep out of jail. He has inaugurated the shooting season by stealing a bay mare, a buggy and harness, a double-barrel shotgun and three hunting dogs.

In the matter of huckleberry picking for 1908, I. W. Brown and family, of Ranchtown, Clinton county, appear to hold the championship belt. They camped during huckleberry time on the Sugar Valley mountains for 11 weeks, visiting the Williamsport markets 22 times. In that period they picked and delivered over 8,000 quarts or 250 bushels.

On Monday Stewart Hettig, a game warden arrested three foreigners near Askam, Luzerne county, charged with violating game laws. When caught the men tried to hide a gun case, which was found to contain nine robins and a flicker. They were placed in the lockup at Warrior Run and later taken before 'Squirwe Fenner, at Ashley, who fined them $110 for illegal shooting.

A news dispatch from Redbank, Pa., under the date of Oct. 7, says: Mrs. "Betsy" Freeman, who is believed to be the oldest woman in the United States, quietly observed her 115th birthday today at her little home in Madison township, this county. Mrs. Freeman was born in Fayette county in 1793 and has always lived here. So far as is known she is the only person now living who has lived under every president of the United States from Washington to Roosevelt.

Farmers in the eastern part of Lebanon county, are experiencing a labor famine as the result of the employment of all available men on the McCarthy oil line. The latter enterprise is going ahead at full speed and labor is being paid such excellent wages that men on the farms and elsewhere have been attracted to that work. As a result farmers have no help and are finding difficulty in getting their corn husked and other farm work done.

A few days ago Miss Sallie Speacht, of Pottsville, aged 78 years, was run down by a shifting train and had her foot crushed. She had a horror of hospitals and surgery and wouldn't permit an amputation. She died of her injuries on Tuesday.

John Bruber, a painter of Allentown, while working on a scaffold at the Presbyterian church almost 30 feet above the sidewalk on Tuesday, saw a runaway horse dashing up the sidewalk directly towards the scaffold. He quickly leaped from the scaffold and caught hold of the church cornice just as the scaffold was struck and toppled down, thus perhaps, saving his life by his presence of mind.

While Frank Ross was out trolling in the Susquehanna river at Danville on Tuesday, he handed the line to his four years old grandson as he moved the boat along slowly. The lad wrapped the line around his wrist and a vigorous bite pulled him out of the boat. The grandpa quickly grabbed the boy and got him into the boat and then attended to the line and hauled in a twenty pound salmon.

It takes a genius to know how to live with a genius.

SAYRE BRIDGE APPROACH CASE DISMISSED BY COURT.

T. P. Maney and Others Have No Cause for Complaint.

Hon. A. C. Fanning, president judge of the Bradford county court, has handed down an opinion in the case of T. P. Maney, et. al., vs. the county commissioners, in the matter of the overflowing by high waters of the Western approach of the county bridge between Sayre borough and Athens township, dismissing the proceedings and placing the costs upon the petitioners. The question raised was whether or not the Western approach meets legal requirements, and in passing upon the matter the court in part opines as follows:

"The approach is 120 feet long, complete in itself, in good repair, and which for nearly four years has afforded reasonably easy and convenient passage to and across this bridge, not only to pedestrians but to heavily loaded vehicles as well. People, to a considerable extent, are making homes and doing business on the East side of the river. That it would be desirable to raise the street thereby relieving those who have occasion to use the same, from inconvenience by reason of high water sometimes overflowing the flat, is undeniable, a condition that should in some way be remedied. This need has been recognized by the borough of Sayre as evidenced by the fact that plans for the construction of a cause-way at this point were for some time under consideration.

"The question, however, of the building of a cause-way, for which there is provision under certain conditions, is not before the court, but the simple proposition whether or not the Western approach meets legal requirements.

"The evidence establishes the fact that it is such as to afford, as before stated, reasonably easy and convenient passage to and off from said bridge for the traveling public. This is all that is required of the county so far as the construction of an approach is concerned.

"To hold that a county must raise a street or road-bed, which has been used in its present condition for years, a long distance by a cause-way or otherwise over flat lands, which sometimes overflow, after providing means of access to and from the bridge of the character indicated, would not accord with the letter or the spirit of the act of 1836, pursuant to and by virtue of which the same was erected.

"Relief from the inconvenience resulting from high water, however, desirable, is not, we think, obtainable through these proceedings. An approach which substantially meets the definition and requirements of the law, has already been constructed. Consideration of the other questions raised in view of the conclusion reached, is unnecessary.

"And now, Oct. 5, 1908, writ of alternative mandamus and application dismissed at cost of petitioners."

ATTEMPTED JAIL DELIVERY.

Prisoners Attack and Brutally Beat Deputy Sheriff Ward.

Prisoners confined in the county jail on Pine street, made a desperate attempt to escape Thursday night at 9 o'clock. Deputy Sheriff Ward, turnkey at the jail was set uponby two of the prisoners and brutally assaulted.

Mr. Ward stepped into the main room of the prison for the purpose of locking the prisoners in their cells for the night. No sooner had he stepped inside the iron door than he was attacked by Joseph Bettis, awaiting requisition papers to be taken to New York state to answer to the charge of horse stealing, and George Gottleib, who is serving six months for assault upon a man in the Sayre shops.

Bettis is a one armed man. On the stump of the arm he wears an iron hook, which he used for a weapon in assaulting Mr. Ward. With the hook he felled the warden to the floor and then Gottleib joined in the attack. Mr. Ward put up a plucky fight and was receiving an awful pummeling from the two men when Sheriff Griffin hearing the commotion rushed into the jail and took charge of Gottleib. On equal terms with Bettis, Deputy Ward went after him in proper shape and when subdued, Bettis was badly battered.

Mr. Ward received several bad cuts on the head where he was struck with the hook attached to Bettis' arm, and it was necesary to call Dr. T. Ben Johnson to dress his injuries. Bettis also needed medical attendance.

The attack upon Deputy Ward was part of a carefully planned attempt at jail delivery. Bettis and Gottleib were the leaders, and it is believed that several other prisoners were implicated in the plot. As near as can be ascertained the prisoners believed that Sheriff Griffin was out of town, and Mr. Ward was alone. To overpower him, take his keys and then liberate all the prisoners was the scheme, but it failed to work.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY AND PENSIONS.

The Democrats have year after year inserted a perfunctory plank in their platforms in favor of pensions. This year they say "We favor a generous pension policy."

The extent to which they favor a "generous pension policy" is better shown by their deeds than by their words. On the fourteen most important measures, constituting the pension laws as they existed in 1904, the records show a total vote as follows:

Democrats for the bills..... 417
Democrats against the bills.. 648

Actions speak louder than words. Republicans, when Congressman Kipp asks you to vote for him because he has helped some soldiers get pensions put this record of promises and breach of promise under his nose.

Also remind him that during the last Democratic administration 8,694 pensioners were dropped from the rolls and the pensions of 23,702 persons were reduced.

THAT MATTER OF RESIDENCE.

One of the laughable features of this campaign has been the attempt on the part of the managers of the Kipp campaign to create a prejudice against the candidacy of Col. Pratt, the Republican candidate, because he has been in the habit for some time past of spending a portion of the winter in Binghamton, where his children attend school. The attempt has not been successful and the non-residency argument has fallen flat. Mr. Kipp blundered in allowing his clackers to start it. The argument is the veriest piece of nonsense, and the Democratic candidate should have known that this course would serve to invite attention to the matter of his own residence. When the matter is inquired into it is found that Mr. Kipp has lived outside the Fourteenth district much more than Col. Pratt has. He was not born in the district and did not move into it until he was well started in life, and since he has been a resident of the district he has been absent from it a great portion of the time on business. As to one of his business enterprises this information can be given—he is a large owner of an electrict railway which does not have the merit of being an American corporation, but has a Canadian charter and is located in Canada, in the gracious domain of Edward VII, King of England.

The Reporter-Jouranal does not wish to be understood as making any objection to Mr. Kipp's candidacy on the ground of insufficient residence in the Fourteenth district. He is entirely qualified to run for congress as far as the matter of where he lives is concerned. It would be as far-fetched and silly for Col. Pratt and his friends to claim that Mr. Kipp is not eligible to a seat in congress from the Fourteenth district because of the reasons above named as it is far-fetched and silly for the Kipp clackers to say that Col. Pratt is disqualified because he has for several winters spent a portion of the season in Binghamton.

Mr. Kipp and his followers had better keep still about the residence matter during the rest of the campaign.

THE VETERANS AGAINST KIPP.

In this issue of the Reporter-Journal appears a letter on Soldiers' and Widow's Pensions signed by a number of well known Bradford county veterans, and we bespeak for it a careful perusal by every soldier under whose eye it may come. This letter will show how some of the best known soldiers in Bradford county view the congressional fight now on in the Fourteenth district in its relation to the important matter of pensions.

Mr. Kipp, the Democratic candidate for congress, is conducting his campaign largely on the pension issue. He is going through the district calling the attention of the voters, and especially of the old soldiers, to the fact that he has been successful in getting through a number of pension claims, and on the strength of this service he is insistently urging Republicans to vote for him. With the request goes a promise that the good work will be continued and pensions secured for more soldiers. The candidate and his friends are careful to tell the old soldiers that Mr. Kipp is a member of the committee on pensions, and that by reason of this fact he has unusual opportunities to get pension claims through, and the impression is assiduously cultivated that he will continue to be on the committee. But anyone who knows anything about it knows that his tenure of membership on the committee is very uncertain.

In the letter above referred to the Union veterans remind the voters that Mr. Kipp is not the entire pension committee, that he received his appointment on the committee, from a Republican speaker, that the committee is a Republican body, and that the congresses, senates and presidents that have passed the great bulk of pension legislation have been Republican. The letter reminds the veterans that "Cleveland, the only Democratic president since the war, said that the 'pension roll was honeycombed with fraud,' and as a result he instituted a critical investigation of the pensioners on said roll, dropped many, reduced others, and made it as difficult as possible for soldiers and widows to obtain pensions under the laws."

The letter asks some pertinent questions, as follows:

"Do the veterans of this county want to submit their claims for pensions or otherwise to a Democratic committee of a Democratic house? Do the veterans wish to give a Democratic President a chance to veto their private or other pension bills? Should the next house be Democratic, by returning a Democrat from this district, how will it affect tahe soldier and his widow? Do the veterans and their friends want to aid and abet the party that in the past has been opposed to the soldier and the liberal pension policy of the Republicans? How many soldiers and widows in this congressional district lost their pensions or had same reduced by Hoke Smith, commissioner of pensions during the Democratic administration and Democratic interpretation of the pension laws?"

The veterans who sign this letter are representative citizens in their representative localities and their loyalty to the principles of Republicanism and to their country has been proven. They have been moved to take this action because a Democrat—Mr. George W. Kipp, who all his life has been a member of the Democratic party—the party that has never passed pension laws but has always opposed them, is now going up and down the Fourteenth district, asking Republicans to vote for him.

Reason enough, all will admit, for old veterans breaking silence and speaking their minds.

Every voter in the District should read this appeal of the veteran soldiers.

WYOMING COUNTY DESERVES IT.

Wyoming county has the candidate for state senator this year and surely she deserves it. For thirty-seven years Wyoming county, apportioned in a district with counties larger than herself, has been asking to be allowed to name the candidate, but when overborne by superior numbers has acquiesced and stood loyally by the ticket. During most of that long period the senatorial district was made up of Bradford and Wyoming; at present the district is Wyoming, Susquehanna and Bradford. Last spring the Hon. Moses Shields announced his candidacy and received the nomination, and throughout Bradford county there is a feeling that this county owes it to her sister county to do all in her power to elect him. The recognition given Wyoming county in this matter has come late, and it should not be half-hearted.

Mr. Shields is an unassailable candidate. His record in the lower house of the state legislature is one that reflects credit on him and on his county. His character as a man and citizen is above reproach, and the voters of Wyoming are preparing to give him a majority next month that will not reflect party lines but will show that he has hosts of friends among those who are nominally alligned against him politically.

The voters of Bradford will do their part and Mr. Shields will receive a handsome majority from this corner of the district.

The officials who are preparing the ballot tell us that it is going to be a difficult one to "cut," there being so many candidates on it that a person is going to be puzzled in marking it correctly. In Bradford county it will bother Republicans not at all. They are perfectly satisfied with the ticket and one cross in the Republican column will be all the marking required.

QUESTIONS FOR MR. KIPP.

We are getting a little tired asking Candidate Kipp to say which he would vote for for speaker of the house if re-elected—a Democrat or a Republican, but we'll have to keep at it. He dare not answer the question, and that is the point we are trying to keep before Republican voters who have any inclination to favor him, simply that point—he dare not answer. We have got him fast, and all we have to do is to keep hammering the question at him—which? which? which? If he should answer that he would vote for a Democrat for speaker he knows it would disaffect some Republicans whom he is asking to vote for him, and if he should say he would vote for a Republican it would make a lot of Democrats mad, and so he dare not answer at all and there is where we have got him. He is between the Devil and the deep sea. He would get into trouble by answering either way, and he gets into trouble by keeping still. People who try to carry water on both shoulders often get into just such predicaments as this.

Which would you vote for for speaker of the house, Mr. Kipp, a Republican or a Democrat?

Now we will give him another question and it will be just as easy and just as hard to answer as the other one.

Which did you vote for for speaker of the house, Mr. Kipp, when you entered congress at the beginning of the sixtieth congress—a Democrat or a Republican?

You wont dare answer this, either, so we will answer for you. You voted for a Democrat and his name was John Sharp Williams. Don't you deny it, Mr. Kipp, for if you do we will show the record on you.

One of the most important days in a session of congress is the day on which the speaker of the house is chosen, for he is the most important officer in that body, and one of the most important in our entire scheme of government. His power rivals that of the president. He can exert more influence in the shaping of the nation's laws than any man in either branch of congress, and here is George W. Kipp, a Democrat, asking Republicans of this old Republican Wilmot-Grow district to help him back into congress when less than a year ago he was in Washington voting for a Democratis speaker of the house. How do you like it, Republican voters?

Republican voters, Mr. Kipp can't go back to congress without your help. When he asks you to vote for him tell him you don't care to send to congress a man who will help elect a Democratic speaker, help tie your president's hands, oppose Republican ideas and policies, and do all he can in any and every way to defeat the Republican party.

NEWS FROM THE DISTRICT.

Our readers who are interested in politics, and almost everyone is at this time, will read with interest letters we print this week from Tunkhannock and Montrose, showing how the political tide is running in other counties of the Fourteenth congressional and Twenty-third senatorial districts. The news received is all good. Throughout both the districts Republicans are aroused and are going to see to it that they are represented at Washington and Harrisburg by men who are of their way of thinking, doing and voting in respect of public policy and government. Col. Pratt, it is predicted by our correspondent, will received a majority of between 1,500 and 2,000 in Susquehanna county. Mr. Shields, candidate for state senator, will also receive a large vote in Susquehanna county.

From Tunkhannock the news is most encouraging. The county of Wyoming is pretty evenly balanced politically, and neither party has ordinarily much of a margin when the ballot is counted. This time, however, it is confidently predicted that Mr. Shields will run far ahead of the usual vote. When he was first elected, four years ago, he received a majority of 68, and two years ago his majority was 320. Our correspondent predicts that next month he will lead his opponent one thousand votes. All this enthusiasm for the local candidate tends, of course, to help the balance of the ticket, and on congress the Republican candidate will get considerably better than the usual vote.

These favorable reports are cheering and give heart to Republicans throughout the districts. It would be a pity, however, if the prospect of victory should breed apathy and cause any Republican to relax his efforts. The battle is now on, and speaking more particularly of the congressional contest, the enemy professes to be hopeful. The automobile flits hither and thither, the small contingent of Reformed-Republicans and "Towanda aristocrats" redoubles its efforts, the "wad" is unrolled, and the effort to make the veterans believe that Congressman Kipp is the greatest pension getter the world ever saw and forget the fact that it has always been the Republican party that has passed pension laws and the Democratic party that has always opposed them, is not abandoned.

But this is a Republican district, always has been and always will be, and the road to victory is for Republicans to be Republicans and vote the Republican ticket.

The almost unanimous judgment of Col. Pratt's neighbors in his favor certainly places him in a good light before the voters of the four counties and clearly indicates that he is a clean, honorable and trustworthy man.—Wayne Independent.

THE CAMPAIGN IN SUSQUEHANNA COUNTY.

Pratt and Shields Will Both Have Large Majorities There.

Montrose, Pa., Oct. 10.—Never before in the history of this county has old Susquehanna been in better shape for Republican success. The rank and file of the party from every section are united and determined to poll a large vote which simply means splendid Republican majorities.

The Republicans of Susquehanna county are looking towards Wayne, Wyoming and Bradford counties in the Congressional campaign. The candidate for this Fourteenth Congressional District, Col. Charles C. Pratt of New Milford, is well known throughout the counties comprising the same, but he is naturally better known in Susquehanna county, and still better known at New Milford where he was born and has resided all his life. He has spent several winters at Binghamton, N. Y., in order to give his children the advantages of the schools at that place and Mrs. Pratt also desired to be near her mother who resides there and whose advancing years demanded care and protection. Col. Pratt at his home town enjoys the love and respect of all his neighbors. The magnificent vote that he received there at the April primaries was evidence that many voters of opposite political faith had given him their vote for the Republican nomination. The large vote he received throughout the county at that time is now a matter of history and presages the magnificent majority he will obtain on November third.

Chairman H. A. Denney, of the Republican County Committee said: "I consider the Republican organization of Susquehanna county to be in excellent condition. Members of the Committee in every district are earnestly engaged in the work of the campaign. I am sanguine of a large Republican vote. Conservatively, Col. Pratt will have a majority of at least 1500 votes and I hope it will be nearer 2,000. Every candidate for county offices will be elected by large safe majorities. Hon. Moses Shields, candidate for State Senator will receive a good vote in this county."

Thus it will be seen that Susquehanna county will agan, as she has in the past, turn in an old time Republican vote.

HON. GEORGE MOSCRIP.

Hon. George Moscrip, candidate for representative on the Republican ticket, has the advantage of experience in the office to which he again aspires. He stands on his record and invites inspection of it. He was first elected to the legislature more than 30 years ago, and served in the sessions of 1875-76. In 1906 he was again chosen and served with fourteen other grangers from different parts of the state. At the last session of the state grange held in West Chester, a resolution was passed commending them for having kept every pre-election pledge. The act known as the county fair bill, passed at the last session of the legislature, was largely the work of Mr. Moscrip, as he was chairman of the sub-committee which formulated the bill. By the provisions of the bill Bradford county receives $1,000 a year from the state for its three fairs, and the amount is divided among the three in proportion to the amount of premiums paid by each. Mr. Moscrip is the author of the bill repealing the first section of the act of 1868. The act of 1868 discriminated in amount of damages obtainable against certain classes of persons in case of injury when working about the railroads of the state, and had been characterized by several judges as a disgrace to the state. Among those discriminated against by the old law were postal clerks, farmers loading or unloading cars, and merchants unloading their goods from the cars.

Mr. Moscrip is entitled to the loyal support of eevry Republican. His record, his experience and his proven capacity qualify him in an exceptional degree to represent the people of this county in the legislature. His integrity has never been questioned and he has shown himself diligent and trustworty in the performance of his legislative duties. His wide acquaintance with public men and his thorough knowledge of public needs have given him a standing and an influence among our state legislators that will equip him to give the best of service to his constituents. Mr. Moscrip made one of the best representatives Bradford county has ever had.

For weeks the Kipp forces have been circulating through the district by means of their newspapers, by circular letter, and by the now famous automobile express, a circular signed by five persons, setting forth how earnestly Congressman Kipp has worked in the interest of the old soldier and how much the latter is indebted to him for the same. In this way Mr. Kipp hopes to catch the soldier vote. But there are other soldiers than those who signed the Democratic candidate's circular, and some of them have signed a statement which appears in our columns this week. These veterans don't take kindly to the proposition that the old soldier is particularly indebted to Mr. Kipp or the Democratic party. They are sure as sure can be that the party Mr. Kipp belongs to is not the party they have received favors from is the past. They seem to have an idea, these veterans do, that the Republican party is the one that has been good to them in days gone by. What they say in their statement this week should be read by every soldier in the four counties of the Fourteenth district. These old fighters have long memories, and the Kipp clackers are having a hard time making them believe they don't know which side their bread is buttered on.

TAKE NOTICE, EVERY ONE.

Here are two sections of the Corrupt Practices Act which are most important for the candidate, the voter and political committees to remember:

Section 2. Every political committee shall appoint and constantly maintain a treasurer, to receive, keep and disburse all sums of money which may be collected or received by such committee or by any of its members for election expenses; and unless such treasurer is first appointed, and thereafter maintained, it shall be unlawful for a political committee or any of its members to collect, receive or disburse money for any such purpose. All money collected or received by any of its members, for election expense, shall be paid over and made to pass through the hands of the treasurer of such committee, and shall be disbursed by him; and it shall be unlawful for any political committee or any of its members to disburse any money for election expenses, unless such money shall have passed through the hands of the treasurer.

Section 3. No Person who is not a candidate, or the treasurer of a political committee, shall pay, give or lend, or agree to pay, give or lend, any money or other valuable thing, whether contributed by himself or by any other person, for any election expenses whatever, except to a candidate or to a political committee; and no officer of any corporation, whether incorporated under the laws of this or any other State, or any foreign country, except corporations formed for political purposes, shall pay, give or lend, or authorize to be paid, given or lent, any money or other valuable thing belonging to such corporation to any candidate or to any political committee, for the payment of any election expenses whatever.

In order that every one may know what a "political committee" and "election expenses" mean we quote the following from the act:

The term "political committee," as used in this act, shall include every two or more persons who shall be elected, appointed or chosen, or who shall have associated themselves or co-operated, for the purpose, wholly or in part, of raising, collecting or disbursing money, or of controlling or directing the raising, collection or disbursement of money, for election expenses.

The term "election expenses," as used in this act, shall include all expenditures of money or other valuable things in furtherance of the nomination of any person or persons as candidates for public office, or in furtherance of the election of any person or persons to public office, or to defeat the nomination or election to public office of any person or persons.

Now we are simply pointing out main and special features, so that none will forget. Legitimate expenses consist of printing, posting campaign literature, expressages, holding political meetings, rent of offices or headquarters, payment of clerks and typewriters, employment of election watchers, transportation of voters to polls, and bona fide legal expenses. Fifteen days after each primary and thirty days after a general election, each candidate, "political committee" or treasurer, if the election expenses exceed $50 must file with the clerk of Quarter Session in local elections "A full, true and detailed account, subscribed and sworn to by him, before an officer authorized to administer oaths, setting forth each and every sum of money contributed, received or disbursed by him for election expenses, the date of each chontribution, receipt and disbursement, the name of the person from whom received or to whom paid, and the object or purpose for which the same was disbursed."

Those who handle campaign money should be sure to take a voucher for every sum, big or little, so that his account can be properly audited by the Court, through its appointees for that purpose. These are plain words and clearly show how to contribute to a campaign fund, who shall disburse it, for what objects it is paid out and when an account must be rendered. As occasion arises we will call attention to other phases of the act.

It should be borne in mind that no individual, not a candidate or a member of a committee, is permitted to spend money for any purpose whatsoever.

Suffice it now to conclude with the final section of the Act applying the punishment for the violation of the same:

Section 14. Any person who shall incur any illegal election expenses, or otherwise violate any of the provisions of this act, shall be guity of a misdemeanor; and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than $50 or more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not less than one month or more than two years, either or both, at the discretion of the Court.

"To elect Mr. Taft and at the same time to elect a Congress pledged to support him is the only way in which to perpetuate the policy of the Government as now carried on. I feel that all the aid that can be given to this policy by every good citizen should be given, for this is far more than a merely partisan matter."—President Roosevelt.

It was a Democratic President who broke the record by vetoing more pension bills, many times over, than any other president. George W. Kipp is a Democrat, is asking for Republican votes, and can't go back to congress unless he gets them.

BRYAN AND PENSIONS.

The Star-Gazzette took occasion to emphasize with black headlines last night that Mr. Bryan had refuted the statement that he had ever opposed pensions to worthy soldiers. We do not know where the statement originated, and must give Mr. Bryan the benefit of the denial. Whatever his official record may have been, whatever his personal attitude toward the old soldiers may be, the fact remains that he is the candidate of the Democratic party and the Democratic record has invariably been against the soldiers. It was a Democratic President who broke the record by vetoing more pension bills, many times over, than any other President. Not one feature of our splendid pension system is due to the Democratic party. Indeed, the Democrats have for years made the pensions their burden of complaint, both in and out of Congress. On fourteen of the most important pension measures, constituting the pension law as it exists today—outside of the service pension law with which we will deal presently—684 Democratic votes were cast against them and not one Republican! Not only this, but during the last Democratic National administration, 8,694 pensioners were dropped from the rolls, and the pensions of 23,702 persons were reduced! And Why? Because it was alleged that they were not found sufficiently disabled to receive the pension which a Republican administration had given them!

Since then a Republican congress and a Republican President have placed on the statute books laws increasing the pensions of widows and children of soldiers, without requiring them to file applications for the increase, and the service pension law under which all soldiers receive a pension at the age of 62 years. Several other beneficial measures were passed in spite of Democratic opposition.

We only have to go back to the Presidential campaign of four years ago to get an interesting illustration of Democratic opposition to the pension system. It will be recalled that the most striking sentence in Judge Parker's Letter of Acceptance was this:

"I ACCEPT THE CHALLENGE AND IF ELECTED WILL REVOKE THAT ORDER."

This referred to Order 78, issued by the Commission of Pensions, cordially approved by the Secretary of the Interior and President Roosevelt, bringing within the benefits of the pension law all veterans who have reached the age of 62 years and over. The order was issued on March 15, 1904. The only definite thing that Parker promised to do in his whole letter, was to revoke this order, which gave an old veteran who had reached the age of 62 years, the munificent sum of six dollars a month!

This is the Democratic record and Bryan is the Democratic candidate. His election will mean the election of a Democratic Congress, which will naturally be dominated by Representatives from the South, who have never been known up to date, to manfest any particular interest in or sympathy for the Union veteran. Do the old soldiers, now in the enjoyment of a liberal pension system, propose to trust their future welfare to Mr. Bryan and a Democratic Congress, when more than 684 Democratic votes have already been cast against them in Congress and not one Republican?

We do not believe that Mr. Bryan will fool the old soldier.—Elmira Advertiser.

The attempt on the part of Mr. Kipp and his clackers to make the old soldiers believe that the Democratic party has been favorable to the veterans in the way of pensions is enough to make a horse laugh. Not one feature of our splendid pension system is due to the Democratic party. In the last Democratic administration 8,694 pensioners were dropped from the rolls and the penisons of 23,702 persons were reduced.

"To fail to elect Mr. Taft would be a calamity to the country, and it would be folly, while electing him, yet at the same time to elect a Congress hostile to him, a Congress which under the influence of partisan leadership would be certain to thwart and baffle him on every possible occasion."—President Roosevelt.

MR. KIPP MAY NOT REMAIN ON THE COMMITTEE.

Allowing that a membershrip on the committee on pensions is an aid to a congressman in the work of getting in the work of getting pensions for old soldiers, it does not follow that because Mr. Kipp is now a member of that committee that he will continue to be a member if elected to a second term. His supporters are trying to create that impression, however, in order to secure the soldier vote. The truth is that Mr. Kipp and his friends know nothing about the composition of the committee on pensions in the next congress. Nor does anyone else. Let the soldiers beware of the Kipp gang's blarney and promises and do a little thinking for themselves. It is very likely that Mr. Kipp will not be a member of the committee on pensions should he be returned for a second term. If he is re-elected and the house remains Republican a Republican speaker will appoint a new member, and if the house is Democratic a Democratic speaker will appoint a new member, and in either case Mr. Kipp is more than likely to fail of re-appointment.

The thing for old soldiers to think of is this—suppose the next house is Democratic. The Democrats throughout the county are claiming that it will be. Then a Democratic speaker would appoint a committee on pensions that would have a Democratic majority, instead of a Republican majority, as now. During the last Democratic national administration 8,694 pensioners were dropped from the rolls and the pensions of 23,702 persons were reduced. How would the old soldiers like that? When Mr. Kipp or his friends ask you to vote for him they are asking you to help bring back the very conditions which made these pension reductions possible. Let pensioners beware of voting for a Democrat for congress.

TOWANDA, PA., OCTOBER 15, 1908.

KIPP WORKING A "FAKE" GAME.

Any veteran who has applied for a pension knows that to secure it he has got to show cause why he should receive it. He must show a good war record and if he has been incapacitated by wounds or sickness in the service of his country, his chances are vastly increased. But there is not much sentiment in the pension department. The granting of pensions is based on facts. There is no "one-man-influence" as Mr. Kipp, the Democratic candidate for Congress, would have veterans believe. And yet to hear Democratic organs and politicians and Mr. Kipp himself talk, you would think the Democratic party was the author of our great pension system and that their loving arms are about the old soldier's neck all the time, instead of only when his vote was wanted.

Attorney Skinner in his speech before the Republican club last Friday evening, extracts from which are printed on page one, gave some facts regarding pensions which every voter should read. It shows to which party the veteran should look for support.

Mr. Kipp, however, is deserving of credit as a shrewd politician. He worked the game well. Pensioners have been wondering though how it was that they never heard of Mr. Kipp until after the pension had been granted through an agency. His scheme this: When the records at Washington showed that a pension had been granted a person in his district he wrote them a neat little congratulatory letter. That was all. But it was enough. Coming when the veteran was elated over the increase, his natural inference was that Congressman Kipp had taken a personal interest in securing that pension, when he had done nothing. And under such circumstances it is little to be wondered that they considered him a model congressman. Scores of others wrote him and never received anything more than a perfunctory reply.

Two years ago Mr. Kipp was going to flay the trusts when he got to Washington. His constituents as yet have not heard of anything special he has done. It did come out that he was mixed up as a moneyed business man quite thoroughly, however, with those selfsame trusts and their interests were quite mutual, thank you.

In Susquehanna county the soldiers are staunch friends of Charles Pratt. They know him to be a fearless, true man with an honest desire to serve the best interests of his district. Wayne and Wyoming are also standing by him steadfastly, while the dissatisfaction engendered by Kipp and his associates in the early part of the campaign is fast disappearing as the truth is made known, and there is every indication Mr. Pratt will be the popular choice Nov. 3.—Montrose Republican.

THE MEETING MONDAY NIGHT.

The Republican mass meeting on Monday evening was one of the most successful political gatherings that has been held in Towanda for many years past. Politically speaking Pennsylvania is not what may be termed "warm" territory, for all the world knows what Pennsylvania will do in a presidential year; and for this reason Republican managers in the state do not spend much time or money on politiacl demonstrations of the kind we had on Monday evening. On this account the remark is sometimes heard that political enthusiasm of the kind we used to know is a thing of the past. But Monday night's meeting was of the old-fashioned type. Bands of music, big crowds, bon fires, fire works, good speakers and all the concomitants of a political pow-wow of a generation ago were in evidence. It was a satisfactory meeting in every way and the good results of it are already apparent. The Republicans of Bradford county are waking up. The enthusiasm generated on this occasion is even now doing its good work, and its influence will radiate to the farthest voting districts of the county. The effect will be entirely good and we confidently predict a livelier and healthier interest in the political situation from now on, both as regards local and national affairs.

One of the most satisfactory features of the gathering was the presence of Col. Pratt, the Republican candidate for congress. The occasion gave him an opportunity to meet personally a great many of the voters, and the exchange of greeting was mutually pleasant. He is a dignified and courteous gentleman and made a good impression on all who met him. It was not generally known that he would speak at the meeting, and when he came forward he was greeted with thunderous applause. He spoke but a few minutes and acquitted himself admirably. He is an easy talker, his words are well chosen, and what he says is common sense and to the point. There is no doubt the Republican candidate for congress helped his candidacy materially by his visit to Bradford's county seat.

Keep your eye on the chap who writes the political articles for the Sayre Times-Record. He is the humorist of the local campaign, and if we know what we are talking about he will "go far." His power of imagination rivals Shakespeare. One or two of his effusions of the past week remind one of the best days of comic opera, when Gilbert and Sullivan held the boards.

WHERE HE STANDS.

We have been looking everywhere to find out just where Congressman Kipp stands on the tariff issue which is acknowledged by all to be one of the leading questions in the present campaign. Especially is it important in its bearing on the great industrial interests of Pennsylvania, and it is to be presumed that every representative in congress from this state would have well defined views on a subject so vital to the welfare of his constituents. But if our present congressman has any convictions on this pregnant issue he has not so far as we know, announced them. It has been supposed, of course, he stood with his party on this, as well as on all other questions of party policy, but what was wanted was not surmise but a positive and authorative statement of his views. At last we have such an announcement and coming as it does from his local mouthpiece, the Bradford Star, it may be accepted as having the authority of a personal deliverance of the faith that is in Mr. Kipp.

In last week's issue of the Star the voters of this congressional district are assured that Mr. Kipp is for tariff revision. He stands with his party, as does also, we are assured by the Star, Mr. Pratt with his party. We accept the statement of the Star. On the tariff Mr. Kipp stands with the Democratic party while Mr. Pratt stands with the Republican party. The issue then is fairly joined and in determining where these gentlemen, who are asking for the votes of this district to send them to congress stand in this great and overshadowing issue, we have but to examine the platforms and the records of their respective parties.

In 1892 the nation voted for a Democratic tariff, thereby, according to Mr. Bryan, enforcing his slogan that the people should rule. But this vote against the tariff closed our mills and factories. When they were closed American wage earners not only lost their accustomed jobs but could find no others. In their vain search for employment they ate up their savings in the banks and then enlisted in the bread lines. When the working men of the country were not earning anything and had nothing to spend the farmers had nobody to whom to sell their crops. At first they sent them to market at low prices which netted them a loss. Then, in many places, they burned them in the fields because they were not worth harvesting and shipping. Then they plastered their farms with mortgages to get money on which to live since they could not get it from the products which they raised. Merchants went bankrupt because, with the purchasing power of the people gone, they could do no business. Railroads without traffic to haul suspended dividends and even defaulted on the interest on their bonds. Those who must work for their bread had no wages. Those who saved a competence, investing it in securities, had no income. In this poverty and misery the people of the United States languished until they had an opportunity in 1896 to vote back the American tariff system.

The election of McKinley reopened the mills and factories, restored the payrolls of the wage earners, put value into the crops of the farmers, revived the business of the merchants and renewed the dividends and interest payment of securities. The re-election of McKinley further multiplied the wealth and increased the prosperity and happiness of the country and all its citizens. With their election of Roosevelt they exceeded even the extraordinary benefits which had come from their ballot box verdicts in favor of McKinley and the American tariff.

Since 1894—two years after the disastrous election of Mr. Cleveland for the second time and of a free trade Democratic congress for the first time since the Civil war—the American people have been voting against what Mr. Bryan now urges and have been steadily voting for what he condemns—the tariff system that makes business for American industries and employment and wages for American workingmen. Now, Mr. Bryan asks the wage earner to vote himself out of a job as he did 16 years ago, the farmer to vote his crops into bonfires and his land, buildings and implements into mortgages, the merchant to vote himself into bankruptcy, and he one who has saved a competency for old age to vote himself out of dividends and interests. He asks the people to turn over all that belongs to them to foreign capital and labor, which are to be permitted, if Mr. Bryan and the Democratic party have their way, to come into this market and sell their products in place of the products of the American industry, and the American wage-earner, or whose pay and profits the success of this nation and the welfare of its people demands.

Well, the people can do this if they want to, for it is their right to rule now as four years ago, and eight years ago, and twelve years ago, and sixteen years ago. They voted in 1892 to shut up shop, but four years later they voted to open again, and ever since they have been voting to stay open. This year they can vote to shut up shop again if they choose. The ballot box is waiting for them. Nobody disputes their rights to do as they please. Nothing can prevent them. But we have no idea that the American people will vote to shut up shop again, nor will the people of this congressional district vote for a candidate for congress who stands with Mr. Bryan in support of such policies. There are, it is true, some things about which Mr. Bryan seems to be able to fool many of the people, but one of them, we are positive, is not about the way they gain and keep their bread and butter and the way they can throw it away.

The farmer knows whether he sells his crop at a huge profit when the American people are at work. The wage-earner knows whether he has the means to buy what he needs when he is employed at high pay. All the American people know whether they are well off when our industries thrive, when everybody is busy and when abundance blesses the land. Therefore, we hope that Mr. Bryan will go on with such stuff as his tariff argument. There will be no easier and surer way to make his defeat and those who stand with him, terrific and irreparable.

Don't forget that the principal considerations in the election of a congressman are the national ones. Congress is a national body and a congressman is a national officer. It will be a pity if Taft shall be chosen and a Democratic congress shall have power to tie his hands. Col. Pratt is a tried and true Republican and can be depended on to support a Republican president. George W. Kipp, who went to congress by grace of Republican votes, began his congressional career by voting for a Democrat for speaker of the house. Those Republicans who voted for him two years ago must have enjoyed seeing him deliver the old Republican Fourteenth district into the hands of the enemy on this important occasion. And he is trying with all his might to get an opportunity to do it again. And every Republican who votes for him will be helping him to do so.

There is but one congressional district is the state which is so incorrigibly Democratic that it has never been carried by the Republicans, and it is composed of Berks and Lehigh counties. There is one congressional district in the state that has never failed to go Republican but three times, and it is composed of the counties of Bradford, Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming. And it is up to Republican voters to say whether or not the district shall let its foot slip for the fourth time on November third.

A WINNING CANDIDATE.

The candidate for State Senator on the Republican ticket, Hon. Moses Shields, attended the big mass meeting in Towanda last Monday evening. He met many old friends and made many new ones. Mr. Shields is a gentleman of most pleasing personality. His quiet demeanor, the evident candor and fairness with which he treats political opponents, his loyalty to his associates on the ticket, and his fair and intelligent discussion of political issues, is gaining him, not only many supporters in his own party, but the respect—and in many instances the votes—of his political opponents. The Republican candidate for State Senator is making a winning canvass for he is gaining the confidence of the people. While a staunch Republican he is a fair opponent. He has a broad grasp of political issues and the fundamental principles of his party. His experience in legislative methods and his broad knowledge of men and public affairs qualify him to act as a most capable and trustworthy representative in the State Senate and the people of this district will make a great mistake if they do not send him to Harrisburg in that capacity.

STILL SILENT ON THE TARIFF.

Two years ago when the tariff was much less of an issue than it is now Mr. Kipp took great pains to lug it in in his famous letter of acceptance. This year the tariff is a much talked of matter because both parties in their national platforms have promised revision, and Mr. Taft has said that if elected he will call an extra session for revision purposes. But for some reason the Democratic candidate for congress is keeping still on the tariff and shouting pensions, pensions, and nothing else. The matter of pensions is an important one, to be sure, but there are other things beside pensions to be considered. Does Mr. Kipp know anything about the tariff? If he does let him tell it. The person who wrote his letter of acceptance for him two years ago dipped into it slightly and got the candidate into trouble, and it looks now as if he was afraid to say anything about it. Perhaps Mr. Kipp is wise. His Democratic newspaper, the Star, however, says he stands with his party, and everybody knows where the free trade Democracy stands on the tariff.

To C. L. Francisco, Proprietor of the Sayre Times-Record:

Dear Sir:—We have asked you some questions about your support of Mr. Kipp, Democratic candidate for congress, but you don't answer. You seem to be "froze up," and we are trying to thaw you out. But you do thaw real slow. You must be cold-blooded.

Did you have a conversation some time ago with Charles C. Pratt, now candidate for congress in the Fourteenth congressional district of Pennsylvania, in which you said that Mr. Kipp had offered you $1,500 if you would give him the support of your newspaper in his campaign for congress? Did you say in this conversation with Mr. Pratt that you were a Republican and that you preferred to support a Republican candidate for the office, but that it was a matter of bread and butter with you, and that you must consult your own interest? Did you offer to support Mr. Pratt for $1,500, or did you offer to support him for any other sum?

Now we have all the facts about this talk you had with Mr. Pratt, and we want to see if what you remember about it agrees with our facts. Don't be bashful, Mr. Francisco. Speak up. Answer.

Taft Coming to Elmira.

The Elmira Advertiser announces that Judge William H. Taft, Republican candidate for president, is to visit Elmira before the close of the campaign. Preparations are being made for one of the biggest political meetings ever held in this section.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

Splendid Course of Entertainments Have Been Secured.

TOWN IS TO BE CANVASSED.

Owing to the Great Expense Incurred in Securing a Very High Grade Course, a Large Number of Tickets Must be Sold.

The annual session of the Bradford County Teachers' Institute will be held at Keystone Opera House, Towanda, during the week of Nov. 9th. Several very important reasons made it necessary to hold the sessions later this year. The best instructors available will be secured for the day sessions, and a very expensive lecture and entertainment course has been provided for the evenings.

The Entertainments.

On Monday evening, an entertainment will be given by the noted Indian magician Shungopavi, who enjoys the reputation of being a brilliant scholar, humorist and wit. People who have had the pleasure of meeting him both on and off the stage, pronounce him delightfully entertaining, a brilliant conversationalist, and a perfect gentleman in all that the word implies. He is a full-blooded Moqui Indian; is a descendant of the "Cliff Dwellers," pre-historic man, and a graduate of the Crandall school. He speaks English perfectly as well as several other languages. He has had great success in the Lyceum field. Shungopavi will be assisted by his company of Illusionists, Youna, the American-Japanese Juggler, together with Madame Youna, who appears in Indian and Japanese dress as an assistant. Picturesque and beautiful costumes, elaborate stage settings, with careful attention given every detail, ensures the promise that this will be one of the most fascinating evening entertainments ever offered in Towanda.

On Tuesday evening, President Russell H. Conwell, the brilliant preacher, author and orator, who is so well known to Towanda people that he needs no introduction, will deliver his new lecture, "Artemus Ward, The Morning Star of American Humor." Dr. Conwell has no peer on the lecture platform. One of his lectures, "Acres of Diamonds," has been delivered 2600 times in 29 years. His lecture engagements average 200 nights a year, and from his lecture fees he has contributed to the education of poor students more than half a million dollars. He presides over the largest Protestant congregation in America. It is probable that Dr. Conwell has addressed more people than any other man living. He has been on the lecture platform 48 years, during which period he has delivered here and abroad nearly 7,000 lectures. He was the intimate associate with Gough, Beecher, Holmes, Longfellow, Motley, Emerson, Everett, Whittier, Wendell Phillips, Douglas, Grant, Garfield, Burlingame, Sherman and other of America's great men.

A musical entertainment given by the Honululu students from the Hawaiian Islands will be the attraction for Wednesday evening. The company consists of Mme. Anehila, contralto and native instruments; Fred Kahea, flute soloist and tenor; William Holoua, guitar and baritone; David Kaleikoa, guitar and basso; James Pekelo, taropatch and first tenor; Lu Thompson Keouli, violinist, first base and manager. Illustrated views under the direction of Frank Bean, expert operator.

The Honolulu students are natives of the several islands of the Hawaiian group, educated in the public schols and colleges located in Honolulu. These people have a natural love for the beautiful both in art and music. Their schools make a specialty of music and drawing. Professor Keouli organized the present company six years ago selecting his people from the best vocal and instrumental artists of the islands. Two years ago he was pursuaded to bring his company to America, and appeared with great success in New York, Philadelphia and Boston. The company will introduce vocal sextets, quintets, quartets, duets and solos. A special feature will be made of American as well as native songs, popular and classical. The Honolulu Orchestral Club has the following instrumentation: Guitars, violins, flute, and the native instruments, "Ukulele" and "Taropatch." A special feature will be made of the illustrated views from the home of the Honolulu students, beautifully colored by native artists, under the direction of Frank Bean, expert operator.

On Thursday evening, the Rev. Henry R. Rose, pastor of the Church of the Redeemer of Newark, N. J., will give his famous illustrated lecture "Parsifal." Mr. Rose has been upon the platform about ten years and has come into national prominence and demand on account of his unique lecture on Wagner's "Parsifal." The slides used in his lectures are made and colored by Joseph Hawkes, the American who received the Grand Prize at the Paris Exposition for his remarkable color effects, and the "Parsifal" slides are more than a series of ordinary lantern slides. They are from new process photographs of the opera. Every act, eveny scene and every character si reproduced with fidelity to Beyruth and New York. They have been made especially for this lecture and are like oil paintings for richness. Quoting a New York artist: "If the lecture were nothing else it would be a dream of beauty in the presence of such coloring." "Parsifal" covers, connects and unfolds six fascinating legends: The Story of the Knights of King Arthur, The Story of the Holy Grail, The Story of Sir Galahad, The Story of Sir Launfal, The Story of Lonhengrin, The Story of Parsifal.

It is more than a verbal lecture. Mr. Rose has arranged the most melodious music from "Tannhauser," "Lohengrin" and "Parsifal" which will probably be rendered while the beautiful pictures are on the curtain, and the stories are being told. "Parsifal" is more than an evening entertainment. It is a deeply ethical and religious appeal, although in no way sermonic. Rabbi Krauskropf calls "Parsifal" "'The Simple Life' set to music."

The closing entertainment, Friday evening, will be given by the College Singing Girls and Mr. Walter Eccles. This company consists of "Eight charming girls and one funny man." The members are professional singers selected as far as possible from young women who have been college students. Not only are the artists versatile, but they have exceptionally fine solo voices that properly blend in concerted work. The concert is given with a dash and enthusiasm suggestive of college life. Many amusing and entertaining features are introduced that add to the attractiveness of the program. Special costumes are worn for each of the features, and no expense has been spared in securing that which would be the most appropriate. The acknowledged charm of Spanish music, with its accompaniments of castanets, tambourines, mandolins and guitars has caused to be intorduced several of the best selections to be found in this style of music, which will be rendered in the picturesque Spanish costumes. Among the noveltise is "The Drummer Song" and chorus from the opera "Fantine" in which four of the young women appear as drummer girls. Am important part of the program is the impersonations and humorous songs by Mr. Eccles and the musical sketches by him and the young women of the company. Mr. Eccles in the very front rank of entertainers and during the past year has appeared in about every state in the Union on the best courses.

People purchasing course tickets can have them reserved at Kirby's drug store commencing on November 2.

WILLIAM FOYLE, ESQ.

Candidate for Register and Recorder, and a Well Known Lawyer.

Wiliam Foyle, Republican candidate for Register and Recorder, was born on a farm in Herrick township in this county, on Aug. 31, 1848. He is a son of the late John Foyle, who settled in Herrick in 1840. He received his education in the select schools of Herrick and LeRaysville, and later at the Susquehanna Collegiate Institute at Towanda. At the age of 18 he began teaching in the public schools and taught for four years. In 1868 he registered as a law student at Towanda and received his legal instruction from the law firm of W. A. & B. M. Peck. In 1870 he was admitted to the Bradford county bar and was 22 years old at that time. In 1876 he formed a law partnership with I. McPherson, Esq., which continued for two years. The firm was retained in two capital crime cases—Commonwealth vs. J. and Stanley Powers, and Commonwealth vs. Paterson, and conducted the trials in court. In 1876 Mr. Foyle formed a law partnership with the late H. W. Patrick, which continued until the death of the latter. Since then he has practiced law alone.

In his early years Mr. Foyle was a Democrat, although he cast his first vote for President for Ulysses S. Grant. In 1896 when Bryan carried the Democratic party over to free silver he severed all conection with it, and has voted the Republican ticket in local, state and national matters ever since. In 1906 Mr. Foyle was nominated by the Republicans for Chief Burgess of Towanda borough, and was elected by 230 majority. He has one more year to serve.

Mr. Foyle is in every way qualified for the office to which he aspires. There is no doubt of his election, and there is no doubt he will give the county excellent service. He has a wide acquaintance, and many warm friends and we predict that in the election returns the Foyle column will show an old-time majority over his opponent on the Democratic ticket.

FIRE AT LAQUIN.

Roof Burned From Kindling Wood Factory Yesterday Afternoon.

Practically the entire roof of the large kindling wood factory at Laquin, was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon. Flames are believed to have had their origin in a spark from the smokestack. The fire started about 1:20 and it was but an instant until the entire roof was a mass of flames.

The factory is equipped with patent sprinklers which immediately commenced action, and four lines of hose attached to a powerful pump were brought to play upon the building. In a very remarkable short time the fire was out with no greater damage done than the building was left roofless. This is the fifth time this factory has been in flames, only to be saved by the splendid water supply which gives the big Laquin mills excellent protection against fire.

THE ACCIDENT ROLL.

Very Heavy in the State of Pennsylvania—Railroads Must Report.

A daily average of over 38 accidents on the railroads and street railways of Pennsylvania is shown by the first of the accident bulletins to be issued by the Pennsylvania State Railroad commission.

The bulletins are to be complied from the reports made by the companies to the state commission, and will be issued every month, covering all classes of accidents and being the first of the kind to be devoted solely to accidents occurring within the commonwealth. Previous statistics of this character contained figures for the whole systems of railroads and street railways operating in this state without separation of Pennsylvania casualties. The reports are required by law, and companies which fail to make them are liable to a penalty if suit is brought.

Cole displayed no emotion when sentence was passed upon him. He seemd resigned to whatever sentence the court saw fit to impose. The maximum sentence in such cases is ten years. Judge McCann denied application for a new trial.

Value of Alfalfa.

Says the Troy Gazette-Register: "A Granville farmer who sowed five pounds of alfalfa with perhaps two bushels of other grass seed has much more to show for it at this time than from either his common clover or timothy. It appears to have stood the dry weather better than the other grasses."

NOTES OF GRANGES

Column For Patrons of Husbandry by A. T. Lilley.

DAIRYMAN'S COMMANDMENTS.

Many Interesting Geological, Ethnological and Botanical Specimens Found in the Towanda Creek Valley—Grange Inspection Now On.

Pomana Gange, No. 23, will hold its next quarterly session at Spring Hill on the sixth and seventh of November, Friday and Saturday.

The next annual meeting of the National Grange, to be opened November 11th, promises to be of unusual interest to the order of Patrons of Husbandry. Questions of vital importance are liable to be introduced that may need the closest consideration of the conservative element.

The Grange inspections for 1908 are now at hand and it is hoped that complete reports from the 36 granges of the Pomona district will be sent in to the proper officials without delay. The deputies should have their reports in full.

Open Hand degree team is still in line of action as shown by the conferring of all the subordinate degrees at its home grange at the last two meetings.

J. W. Stone of Canton, at a recent meeting of his home grange ta LeRoy, gave a very interestin gtalk on his appreciation of the ritualistic and educational work of the grange. The large attendance at the degree feast will not soon forget his words of cheer impressed on their minds by his well told views of grange work and thoughts as made apparent while under the care and guidance of the assistant steward.

Grange workers have a broad field to labor in. The whistler may whistle; the singer may sing; the student may study; the teacher may teach; the preacher may preach; the lawyer expound the law; the producer may sell his produce; the politican may study the policies of government, etc., etc., but partisan policies and sectarian views are "not permitted within the gates."

Postal savings' banks and the parcel post system are grange ideas. Every patron should do all that is honorable to secure them. In all grange work we should labor for the inactment of laws to procure them because they will be of advantage to the majority of people.

In the spring of 1907 when collecting some geological specimens from the Chemung age, some radish seed of the icicle variety were scattered among the stone where there was no soil in sight and apparently none anywhere near the surface, yet the seed produced a fine crop of radishes. Some of the plants were allowed to mature seed, some of which fell among the stone. In the spring the seed germinated and produced fine radishes. On the 12th of October, one among many has more than 1400 seeds and there are also many blossoms on the plants. Other specimen are nearly as prolific.

Thanks are extended to a woodchuck for a fine specimen of fish scale from a bothriolepis minor one and one-fourth inches in diameter. It is a beauty. The rodent has credit also for an Indian scraper found at the same time and place where it had been digging for winter quarters.

Credit is hereby given to the P., B. & E. Railroad for a fine tooth of a fish known as heolodus. It was found in the railroad cut in the upper Chemung iron ore bed near Leon Stone's, west from LeRoy. Fish plates more than one-third inch thick were found at the some place.

Recently a handful of flint flakes, arrow points, flint scraper and squaw's knife were found near West LeRoy.

Some fine specimen of arrow wood recently found called to mind that our botanists say it was so called because the Indians used it for arrows because of its proper qualities for such use.

A very fine Indian stone battle ax was seen a few days ago at Dick Kendall's. It was found by workmen on the P., B. & E. railroad about one year ago.

A few days ago an old woodsman called attention to three trees on a byroad which he had thought were thorn bushes but he did not "quite know" about it because thre were no thorns. Examination proved them to be pepperidge, a tree wholly different.

All specimens of "red elm" shown us have proved to be slippery elm, yet we hear many people say the red elm is not the slippery elm.

Some of the foregoing items show what a fine chance a patron has to learn of the curios of botany, geology, and ethnology in almost any grange community.

BIG ATHLETIC MEET.

Sullivan County Schools Took Important Part in Forksville Fair.

The Athletic Society of Sullivan county held their third annual meet at the Forksville fair, Oct. 7, 1908. The contestants were all students from the high schols of the county. Seven schools were represented in this contest, it being the best ever held in Sullivan county.

Dr. J. K. Davies of Forksville, Geo. Deegan of Dushore, and F. W. Meylert, Esq., of Laporte, are entitled to great credit for working up these healthful sports in the Sullivan county high schools.

Two ball games were played at the Forksville fair on Thursday. Dushore vs. Sonestown, resulting in a tie, 6-6, which for want of time was not played off, and Murry vs. Hillsgrove. This was one of the best games ever played on the fair grounds resulting in a score of 2-3 in favor of Hillsgrove. Friday Shunk played East Forksville in a lively game resulting in a score of 5-7 in favor of East Forks.

Remarkable Smithfield Lady.

The Smithfield correspondent of the Athens Gazette, says: "Saturday, Oct. 3, was the ninetieth birthday of Euphema, daughter of Olmsted and Anna Watkins Tracy. Born in Smithfield and always a resident here, she has never been more than 20 miles from the town. She was the oldest of 13 children, nine sons and four daughters. Of these, two brothers are still living, Euphrastes, 81 years old, and Malie, the youngest child, 65 years old; two sisters, Mrs. Dickinson of Springfield, and Lois Tracy of Smithfield. The descendants of her parents, now living, number 38. About 30 years ago she left the farm where she was born to live in Smithfield village with her sister, Lois. Possessed of an unusual amiable disposition, she has always had many friends. About 20 of them called upon her Saturday afternoon to extend congratulations and present her with a nice rocking chair. Her brother, Malie, made the presentation speech, to which she responded beautifully, her faculties, physical and mental, being well preserved. She knits rugs, stockings and mittens for her friends and will now fulfill a promise made to Dr. Will Campbell: 'When I am 90 years old I will knit a pair of old fashioned mittens for you.'"

New Pure Food Law.

The preliminary drafts of a pure food law which will meet all requirements of the Constitution is now being made, and the probabilities are that it will be presented to the next session of the legislature to take the place of the Tustin pure food law, which was recently declared unconstitutional in a vital part by Judge Martin Bell of Blair county. The new law will include not only foods, but milk, ice cream and other products. There is also a discussion of a proposed pure drink law, as at present the state cannot regulate the sale of liquors.

GEORGE PLACE ASKS $35,000 DAMAGES FROM S. & N. Y.

Resident of Towanda Township Institutes Trespass Proceedings.

Monday in the Bradford county courts, through his attorneys, David E. Kaufman and Lilley & Wilson, George Place of Towanda township, instituted a damage suit against the Susquehanna and New York Railroad company for $35,000 for injuries received two years ago.

On Oct. 17, 1906, Mr. Place was with the work crew which had been employed near Laquin. When the train started for Towanda, the coach and some of the cars not coupled securely, remaining standing. After going a short distance the train crew discovered the fact that the coach and some of the cars were not attached to the train and the engine was reversed and a start made to back up for the rest of the train.

The two sections of the train came together with sufficient force to throw Mr. Place who was in the coach, against the seats so hard that he was badly injured. He claims that he has been permanently disabled, and alleges it was through negligence of the defendant company, and therefore asks for $35,000 damages.

FROM WYOMING COUNTY.

Shields Will Run Far Ahead of the Ticket.

The party in our county is in excellent shape, harmonious, and the workers are in one accord for the ticket. Shields will get a tremendous vote regardless of party. The people of our county know of his worth because of his record. He has done things for his district for the whole people and as I said before they want to honor him for what he has done for them and they want him for what he will and can do if he is further honored. I believe he will receive a thousand majority from our county which is practically a tie, under ordinary circumstances. As evidence of the way our people approve of him he was elected four years ago by 68 majority and two years ago by 320.

We are in hopes that Col. Pratt will get down here considerably before election. Applause follows him wherever he has gone in this county. The party is united for him and the result will be better than a normal majority for him. B.

New Stamps Nearly Ready.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing has completed designs suggested by Postmaster General Meyer for a new issue of United States postage stamps. The new stamps will be of the following denominations: One cent, two cent, three cent, four cent, five cent, six cent, eight cent, ten cnt, fifteen cent, fifty cent and one dollar. The two dollar and five dollar denominations now in use will not be reprinted. It will be some weeks before all the denominations will be put on the market. However, the two cent stamp will be the first distributed, and it is expected that shipments to postmasters will commence some time in November.

Cut Gash in Head.

Edwin Westbrook, a Lehigh freight conductor, living in Athens, received a serious injury Sunday night while riding on his train below Towanda. It was dark and as he was going over the train his lantern blew out and while firing it the train broke in two in the air, and Mr. Westbrook was thrown violently against a drawhead, cutting a gash three inches long. It took eight stitches at the Packer hospital to close the wound.

Cut Detective Force.

There is to be a reduction of one at the office of the Lehigh special officers at Sayre. At the present time the force consists of T. B. Shaffer, William Douglass and Arthur Mericle. Since the East end from Sayre has been placed under the charge of the Wilkes-Barre office a reduction of one man will be made as a result of the reduction in the amount of work arising therefrom. Whether Mericle or Douglass will go has not been decided.

WHAT THE OLD SOLDIERS SAY.

On the first page of this paper is a statement made by some of the veterans which will be read with interest not only by their comrades but also by every voter in the county. Owing to lack of time the paper was circulated only in a few localities, but the character of the persons whose names appear upon it, their hearty accord with its sentiments and their readiness to sign it, indicate how deeply and generally these old soldiers resent the attempt made by some of their comrades to place them and a majority of the veterans of the district in a false light in the present political campaign. The men who sign the statement on the first page of the Reporter-Journal utterly repudiate the action of the persons who have assumed to speak and act for them in the matter of pensions; and their high character and standing in their respective communities is sufficient guarantee of their motive and their sincerity. A perusal of this statement will leave no doubt in the mind of the unbiased reader as to how a majority of the veterans will vote in November. The old soldiers never yet have failed to recognize which party is their real friend and their is no danger that they will be lead astray this year by the false claims of Mr. Kipp and the men who are working in his interest.

BEE TO BE HELD.

Eastern Approach of James Street Bridge to Be Built.

All the "willing workers" in Wysox and Sheshequin townships, or from any other place are invited to attend the bee to be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week for the purpose of building the Eastern approach to the new James street bridge. The bridge is complete and ready for travel, but cannot be used until the Eastern approach has been constructed.

The approach on the Western end was built and paid for by the Towanda Business Men's association, and the Eastern approach was to have been built by Wysox township, but as there is some misunderstanding about this matter, the people of Sheshequin and Wysox, those most directly benefited have decided to get busy and build the approach.

A bee, one of those old fashioned gatherings where hale and hearty men with frisky teams turn out and work like good fellows, not for money, but for the fun of the thing, knowing that it is for a good cause, has been decided upon as the proper thing, and commencing tomorrow, Thursday, the bee will be under way, continuing until Saturday when it is expetced that the approach will be completed.

The landslide which recently choked the narrows will be hauled into the fill, and arrangements have been made for a large section of stone wall which will be torn down and hauled and placed in the fill. The loading and dumping will be easy on men and teams, and if the people will take hold as they are expected to, by next Monday the new James street bridge will be ready for travel.

Lad Mutely Awaited Death.

Adam Miscovitz, aged nine years, met a tragic death at Nanticoke Thursday. He was crossing the tracks of the New Jersey Central railroad when his foot caught in a frog. He was so badly scared that he did not notice the approach of an empty engine, and gave no outcry. The crew of the engine failed to see the lad until some feet away. It was then too late to stop and the little fellow, with his eyes lifted heavenward, was run over and killed.

New Form for Shippers.

It is of interest to shippers in general that a new style of uniform bills of lading will be adopted by all of the railroads, beginning Nov. 1, 1908. The adoption is in accordance with a recommendation of the Interstate Commerce commission. The new form is expected to remove much of the confusion which now exists in reference to bills of lading. Circulars have been received at the local freight offices of the railroads explaining in detail the new form.

Kept Down the Lid.

In the year one thousand nine hundred and ten the municipal election shall be held on the third Tuesday of February, as heretofore; but all officers chosen at that election to an office the regular term of which is two years, and also all election officers and assessors chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven. All officers chosen at that election to offices the term of which is now four years, or is made four years by the operation of these amendments or this schedule, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen. All justices of the peace, magistrates, and aldermen, chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen. After the year nineteen hundred and ten, and until the Legislature shall otherwise provide, all terms of city, ward, borough, township, and election division officers shall begin on the first Monday of December in an odd-numbered year.

All city, ward, borough, and township officers holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of December of that year.

All judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and also all county officers, holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of January, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

The Granville baseball club went to Columbia Cross Roads on Wednesday of last week and won the second game of the season with that club by a score of 12 to 9. Columbia Cross Roads has a very strong club which has been walloping clubs from the surrounding country all summer. About a week ago they came to Granville with the intention of adding another victory to the long list they already had but were greatly surprised after nine hard fought innings to find that they had six scores to seven for Granville. The wager that Granville could not beat them on their own grounds caused not only the baseball nine but about 30 enthusiastic ball fans to board the train Wednesday morning and drop off at Columbia Cross Roads to see the fun. It certainly looked dark for Granville when the game was called at 10 a. m. The country had been scoured for miles around, nad some of the strongest players between Williamsport and Elmira were in the game for Columbia Cross Roads. Merritt and Rockwell were the battery for Granville. As usual Granville's heavy hitting won them the game 12 to 9. Columbia X Roads was so sure that they would win this game that they had arranged to play the third game of the series in the afternoon, but as Granville had already taken two straight games, there was no rubber to play. Another series of games is talked between Granville and Columbia to take place early next spring.

POLITICAL

To the Voters of Bradford County:

Gentlemen:—Three years ago with your assistance, I began active work by petitions to reduce the fees paid the County Treasurer, which was then about $4800 per year. We succeeded in reducing it to about $3200 per year, but believing it still too high, I offered myself as candidate before the Republican primaries, and publicly said if elected, "I would discharge all the duties of the office, and not charge or accept of a sum total of more than $1500 per year, this to include the State fees which amount to upwards of $500 per year.

"That I would present a petition to the proper board demanding them to reduce the fees paid so the sum total would not exceed $1500 per annum.

"That I would publish all orders paid, giving the names to whom paid, amount and for what purpose."

We have fought this issue at the Republican primaries and won. Bradford county is a strong Republican county.; my election will establish a Republican precedent which will reduce and fix the salary of County Treasurer for the present and future.

I respectfully solicit your vote for County Treasurer at the coming election, and I assure you I will perform my duties in the office and along other lines in the interest of our taxpayers.

F. N. MOORE.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Voters of Bradford County:

Please observe the following resolutions passed by the Democratic County Convention, held August 29, 1905, viz.:

"Whereas, Taxation is the most burdensome ever known in the history of the State, and whereas, it has been conclusively proven that the actual cost of boarding jail prisoners does not exceed 25 cents a day, we demand that the same shall be reduced to that amount. We further demand that the salary paid the County Treasurer, which now is over $3,000 a year, shall be reduced to a sum not exceeding $1,200 a year. We ask patriotic citizens of all parties to unite with us for retrenchment and reform."

Believing it my duty to abide by my party resolutions, therefore I hereby declare that if I am elected as County Treasurer at the ensuing November election, that I shall perform all the duties pertaining to the office of County Treasurer for the salary of $1,200 a year, or less if so made by the authorties that fix the same.

POLITICAL NOTICE.

Office of Chas. M. Hall,
Attorney-at-Law.
Towanda, Pa., Sept. 22, 1908.

To the Voters and Taxpayers of Bradford County:

Nominated for the high office of Prothonotary of Bradford County, and unable for many reasons, to make a personal canvass, I ask your votes for said office.

If elected, I will faithfully attend to all duties of the office. I proved when Register and Recorder, that an officer could live on less fees than the exhorbitant and unreasonably high fees of the 1868 Fee bill. In view of present hard times, taxpayers ought to have substantial reduction in fees, in accordance with decreased ability to pay. Such proper reductions I promise.

Believing the Primary Election law of 1906, unconstitutional, unjust and burdensome, in compelling candidates for small as well as large offices, who have incurred no expense whatever, to pay the Prothonotary for filing a statement therewith, a burdensome fee, I do hereby pledge myself, that if given the opportunity by the voters of all parties, to make no charges whatever for filing certificates of said candidates whether elected or defeated. This will be in line with free soldiers' pension vouchers, first begun as Register and Recorder in 1891, by me.

WILL COUNTY LET LEHIGH TAX DROP?

Commissioners Will Doubtless Stand Pat on Keeping Shop Assessment.

It now seems that the county commissioners will stand firm on the tax case and will fight it through to the finish and collect th etaxes is possible.

They do not approve of th eaction taken by the borough council and the school board of Sayre, because the school board and the council started the matter and then backed out, permitting th eaction to go by default.

The borough, when the argument to strike the assessment off came before the commissioners, produced much evidence before that body showing that the company was legally liable to pay the taxes and by that evidence convinced the commissioners that the case against the company was a meritorious one, and acting on the strength of that evidence they permitted the assessment to stand.

The county is financially interested in the case to th eamount of about $9,000, besides some $25,000 that the borough and school board is interested in, and after the matter has been shown up to the point that it has the commissioners feel that they would not be justified in permitting the case to drop, for they would probably come in for criticism all over the county, because the farmers are all interested in the county tax and think that the amount should be collected.—Sayre Correspondent Athens News.

CANTON MAN WINS.

Judge Decided Levy on Notes in Innes-McFadden Suit Invalid.

Judge Geigerich of New York, has rendered his decision in the case of L. T. McFadden against John Innes of Canton, holding that the plaintiff's attempted levy, made in New York city, is invalid.

The parties reside in Canton, this county, but the action was begun in New York city.

The plaintiff's attorneys sought to levy on some notes owned by the defendant, that maker residing in New York, to recover commissions on the sale of property.

E. W. Personius of Elmira, appeared for the defendant and moved to vacate the levy. This motion is granted.

The opinion of Judge Geigerich was made public Saturday morning. It holds that the notes could not be levied upon as they were held in Pennsylvania.

The court also holds that there was no other indebtedness owning to Mr. Innes that could be levied upon and vacates the levy.

This leaves the plaintiff without jurisdiction in New York state, as Mr. Innes was not served there. The issue will now be tried in an action brought by Mr. Innes in the Bradford county courts.

Bullet Struck Badge.

County Detective McCracken, who was brought home from the Packer hospital on Saturday, has a relic of the shooting affray on Wednesday evening, Sept. 16, in which himself and Dr. D. L. Pratt were wounded, that he will not part with. It is the badge of office which Detective McCracken wore, and which probably saved him from instant death. The badge was worn directly over the officer's heart, and the bullet which went through the body, first struck the badge, bending it nearly double. It was the badge which deflected the bullet and caused it to pass within a quarter of an inch of the heart, The badge, while deflecting the bullet, turned it in its course, and it went into the body sideways instead of straight, thus making a more ugly wound. Detective McCracken will keep the badge as a souvenir of his quarter of an inch from instant death.

Semi-Monthly Pay Law.

It is stated that the Lehigh Valley is to fight the new law in New York state which went into effect Oct. 1, requiring railroad companies to pay its employees twice a month. The road is making out its pay schedules as formerly, on the monthly basis. Other roads are expected to disregard the law, pending the Lehigh's test case. The New York Central, however, announces that it will observe the law.

DIED FROM LOCKJAW.

O. E. Weller of Milan, Passed Away in Packer Hospital Sunday.

O. E. Weller, a well known farmer of Ulster township, died Sunday afternoon at 3:15 in the Packer hospital at Sayre, from lockjaw, developing from an injury received in an ensilage cutter a week ago.

Last week Friday he was helping a neighbor, N. A. Pruyne, fill a silo, and in working about the ensilage cutter, his mitten caught in the gearing drawing his hand in and crushing it frightfully. Dr. Cowell dressed the injury and Friday morning amputated the little finger.

Saturday morning unmistakable symptoms of tetanus developed, and Dr. Cowell was summoned. He found Mr. Weller unable to open his mouth and with the muscles of his neck and back tightly drawn. The physician took the patient in his automobile and made a record trip to the hospital where 6,000 units of anti-tetanic serum were injected the only chance of counteracting the effects of the deadly germ, but to no avail, death resulting Sunday afternoon.

BALLOT WILL BE LARGE.

Ticket Will Contain Six Party Columns for Presidential Electors.

The official ballot for the November election in Pennsylvania will contain six party columns for voting for presidential electors, the size being larger than that used at the election in 1904, because of the fact that the local ticket takes more room. The 32 electors of each party are arranged in columns, the Republicans being first, followed by the Democratic, Prohibitionist, Socialist, Independence and Socialist-Labor parties in the order named, with one customary blank column.

At the left side there are the six blocks in which a cross may be made for a straight ticket. These blocks are four inches long by an inch high, the space for the cross being almost an inch square. Below the lists of electors there are spaces for the state, congressional, judicial, legislative and county nominees. The only nominees certified throughout the state by the capitol officials are those for supreme court judge, for which the nominees are: William D. Porter, Republican; Webster Grim, Democrt; Daniel Sturgeon, Prohibition; Thomas H. Kennedy, Socialist, and Luther S. Kauffmann, Independence. The ballots will be certified this week, as the time for filing objections expired Tuesday.

Held to Court.

Joseph Bettis and George Gottleib charged with assault with intent to kill upon Deputy Sheriff Ward, and also attempted jail breaking; and Fred Northrup, charged with attempted jail breaking were given a hearing before 'Squire Meredith Friday evening. Northrup pleaded not guilty, while Bettis and Gottleib made no pleas. After the evidence of Moses Vanderpool and Harry Adsit who witnessed the assault, all three were held to court. S. H. Smith, Esq., represented the commonwealth, while I. McPherson, Esq., was attorney for the defendants. Late developments in the attempted jail delivery of Thursday night, show that Northrup was the chief conspirator, although he took no part in the assault upon Deputy Ward. Northrup is in jail awaiting requisition papers to be taken to Waverly to answer to the charge of improper relations with his young daughter.

Several ribs were fractured, but he is recovering.—New Albany Mirror.

ANOTHER HOMICIDE IN THIS COUNTY

John W. McCracken Was Fatally Wounded by His Brother-in-Law, Douglas Benjamin.

DEATH ENDS QUARREL OVER A PRACTICAL JOKE

Lonely South Mountain Overlooking Scene of Famous Johnson Murder is Where the Killing of McCracken Took Place on Saturday—Benjamin in Jail Charged with Murder.

For the third time within the past year, the fair name of Bradford county has been stained with human blood, and a killing has ended a quarrel starting over a trifling affair.

John W. McCracken, 24 years of age, a resident of Asylum township, occupying the second house from the end of the Wysox bridge, is dead, while his brother-in-law, Douglas Benjamin, aged 18 years, is in the county jail on Pine street, charged with murder.

McCracken's life blood was let out by a pitchfork tine which penetrated his heart. Benjamin, it is alleged, jabbed the tine into the body of his brother-in-law during a fight.

The killing took place Saturday afternoon about 2 o'clock, on the Cole farm on Westbrook hill, a section of lonely South Mountain in Asylum township, which overlooks the scene of the famous Johnson murder of Sept. 18, 1904, for which Bigler and Charles Johnson paid the penalty of their lives on the gallows in the Towanda jail yard.

The killing of McCracken has many puzzling features. There were four eye witnesses but none can tell just how it happened, or exactly when the pitchfork made the wound which resulted fatally. The injured man lived about 15 minutes but made no statement.

He died while in a wagon which was being driven with all haste to Dr. Reed's in Wysox.

Story of the Killing.

Douglas Benjamin, who will have to answer to the charge of murder, is the son of Clark and Eliza Jane Benjamin. Last December he was married to a sister of the man whom he is charged with killing. With his wife and mother, they occupied a farm in South Towanda township, near Woodside, the Major Hale Estate.

John W. McCracken, the young man who was slain, is the son of Henry McCracken, formerly of Asylum township, now a resident of Rome township. John W. McCracken, who occupies the Westbrook farm in Asylum township, is an uncle of the young man who was killed.

Mrs. Clark Benjamin, mother of Douglas Benjamin, owns the Cole farm on Westbrook hill, a section of South Mountain in Asylum township. On Saturday, Douglas Benjamin, John McCracken and a number of other men went to the Cole farm to press some hay for the owner, Mrs. Clark Benjamin.

After dinner, they started to work, and were preparing to move the hay press, when one of the men said something about a joke which had been played on Douglas Benjamin a few days before. It seems some one had nailed a coat belonging to Douglas to the side of a barn, which made Douglas very angry.

When this matter was mentioned Saturday afternoon, Douglas said in reply to the speaker, "it was a dirty trick whoever did it." He was pitching hay on the barn floor at the time, and John McCracken was out in the yard near the steam engine which was being put in shape to run.

McCracken overheard what Douglas said about the coat, and spoke up saying: "well, I nailed your coat to the barn, and what are you going to do about it?" This greatly angered Douglas, and he replied by calling McCracken a vile name. McCracken called back a bad name, and started for Benjamin.

Seeing him coming, Benjamin commenced to back away, dragging the pitchfork along the floor.

Both Men Fell to the Floor.

Benjamin had only taken but a few steps backwards when he tripped on a small pile of hay on the barn floor, falling on his back. He had hardly struck the floor, when McCracken, who was rushing at him also fell, but not upon Benjamin, rather striking near his feet.

Benjamin at this time had hold of the pitchfork handle, and as he struck the floor, McCracken took hold of the tines with his left hand and partly arose, to get a hold of Benjamin who was still on his back. Some of the witnesses say he got Benjamin by the throat, while the others think he had hold of his shoulder.

At any rate, according to the witnesses, the men struggled on the floor a couple of minutes, talking all the time, and during which Benjamin was hanging to the handle of the pitchfork, and McCracken to one of the three tines.

Finally, Benjamin said to McCracken "you leave me alone now," and this seemed to pacify McCracken. One of the men who was standing nearby, not thinking seriously of the scuffling, remarked that "Benjamin would have to pay McCracken, as he had torn his overalls with the pitchfork," to which one of the other men objected, saying: "No he won't, for those overalls were torn three or four days ago."

Said He Was Stabbed.

At this McCracken arose from Benjamin, pulled the pitchfock from his left side and said: "Boys, he has stabbed me with that pitchfork, and if you don't believe me, I will show you."

He went a few feet across the floor to where Asa Benjamin was standing and while trying to pull open his shirt to show the wound, fell over in a faint.

Tried to Reach a Doctor.

The men knowing that he had been seriously injured, hurriedly hitched up a team and started down the mountain side for Dr. Reed's in Wysox. On the wagon besides the injured man, was Douglas Benjamin, Nathan Johnson and Asa Benjamin. They had not traveled over a mile from the barn before McCracken was dead.

Made No Statement.

After being injured, McCracken made no statement. While on the way down the mountain side, he said something which sounded like "stop her," but his voice was so weak, that it was almost inaudible.

Body Brought to Towanda.

The remains were brought to Towanda, and given in charge of Murphy & Maryott, the undertakers. Douglas Benjamin, the young man charged with the killing, rode into town on the same wagon with the corpse.

Gave Himself Up.

After the body had been carried into the undertaking rooms, Benjamin went out on the street, and while discussing the affair, was advised by E. B. Pierce that he had better go and give himself up to the authorities. He said he did not know where to go, so Mr. Pierce took him in charge and escorted him to the office of Constable Hollon. While he was making a statement to the officer, which was being taken in shorthand by Arthur Head, Attorneys David E. Kaufman and S. H. Smith entered the office of Justice Orcutt, where the statement was being made, and asked that Benjamin be allowed to accompany them. As no warrant had been issued at this time, he was allowed to accompany them to the office of R. A. Mercur, Esq., just across Pine street from Justice Orcutt's office.

Benjamin Arrested.

John W. McCracken, uncle of the young man who had been killed then put in an appearance and went before 'Squire Orcutt making complaint, charging Douglas Benjamin with murder. The warrant was given Constable Hollon, who arrested Benjamin in the Mercur law office and took him before the justice where through Attorney Kaufman he entered a plea of not guilty and was committed to jail to await a hearing on Wednesday of this week.

Autopsy Performed.

Coroner Lee and District Attorney Mitchell were notified, and both arrived in Towanda Saturday evening. Dr. T. Ben Johnson, assisted by Coroner Lee, and in the presence of the district attorney and the attorneys for the defendant, performed an autopsy upon the body of McCracken. Examination showed that one of the fork tines had penetrated the left side just below the nipple, while the other had penetrated the side about three inches from the other wound. It was impossible to follow the wound with a probe, so the heart was removed.

The fork tine, the one which entered under the nipple, penetrated the heart for considerable depth, puncturing one of the blood cells, causing a hemorrhage which completely filled the pericardium, or sack which surrounds the heart, thus causing death, the heart being figuratively drowned by the blood.

Inquest Held.

Coroner Lee empannelled a jury consisting of Fred R. Mitten, E. B. Pierce, C. B. Maryott, Patrick O'Boyle, A. A. Campbell and John Overpeck, and adjournment was taken to 'Squire Meredith's office where an inquest was held Saturday evening. District Attorney Mitchell represented the commonwealth, while Attorneys Kaufman and Smith were present to look after the interests of the defendant.

Four witnesses were examined by District Attorney Mitchell, they being Nathan Benjamin, Nathan Johnson, Asa Benjamin and Andrew Benjamin, the four witnesses of the wounding of McCracken. The stories told by the witnesses was substantially as given in the story of the killing which is a part of this article.

After hearing the witnesses, the coroner's jury rendered a verdict to the effect that "John W. McCracken came to his death on Saturday, Oct. 10, from a wound inflicted by a pitchfork held in the hands of Douglas Benjamin.

Case Will Come Up in December.

The case will come before the next grand jury, and will be tried at the December term of court. This is the third homicide in Bradford county during the past year. The other two cases were the killing of Lewis Stanton, by his brother-in-law, Hartley Woodruff in Tuscarora township, and the killing of Luigi Biondi by his cousin, Salvatore Biondi, on the Barclay mountains last spring.

Chicago Wins Pennant.

The Chicago baseball team Thursday afternoon, at New York, defeated the Giants and won the pennant in the National league. The score was 4-2. Thus ends one of the greatest struggles in the history of base ball. The Chicago team and Detroit, the latter winner of the American league pennant, will now play a series of games for the world's championship.

BEE HUNTERS.

How New York State Men Found Sweet Treasure.

Proprietor Theo. Shay and John Edny, of the Norwood, broke all records as bee hunters Wednesday, and succeeded in getting nearly 200 pounds of fine honey, says the Waverly Free Press-Record. About a week ago they located a "tree "near Dry Brook. It was a large hollow basswood and on Wednesday they cut it down, securing about 60 pounds of honey. They then went to the home of George Hubbell, near my, whose house has been infested with bees for two years. Ripping off some weatherboards they found the honey there in immense quantities, and they and Mr. Hubbell gathered over 125 pounds. All of the men were more or less badly stung, but bee hunters count that as a part of the day's sport.

Their description of their methods is interesting, and shows that this style of hunting is an art by itself. Going to an open field, they burn some honeycomb filled with honey, molasses or other sweet substance. A bee is attracted by the "smudge" and helps himself to the dainty. When he goes they watch his course. They also time him. In a little while more bees come, maybe a dozen, maybe hundreds, and by counting the minutes since the first visitor left a fair idea of the distance of their home is gained. The hunters move on the line of the bees' flight and repeat the operation time after time till the bees finally lead them straight to their treasurehouse. Then the bees are smoked out and the tree is chopped down. Inside, in a hollow tree that has been cleaned of every speck of dirt, the masses of honey are found and the result of many months of labor on the part of the busy little workers becomes the booty of the hunters.

The men wear veils while removing the honey, for the bees attack them fiercely, and hurl themselves against the intruders like a storm of hot hail. It is said that all the bees thus despoiled die during the Winter from starvation.

KILLED BY SMALL VOLTAGE.

Scranton Youth Electrocuted While Handling Incandescent Lamp.

Lying on the damp earth of an unfloored cellar with an incandescent light socket clutched in the left hand, and the current of electricity which fed a 32-candle power globe, charging through his body, William Foster, the 18 years old son of Merchant August Foster, was found at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening electrocuted at the Foster store, 614 Hampton street, West Scranton. Foster was found by his brother-in-law, John Schulte, who was knocked out for 15 minutes as a result of taking hold of Foster to release him from the wire. The Foster boy died in a few minutes, gasping "Put me on wood, put me on wood," on his lips.

The death of young Foster baffles electrical experts. The wire which killed him carried only 110 volts or one ampere, which is not regarded as being of sufficient force to harm a person under any conditions. A voltage of but one ampere, experts say, can be placed in contact with the tongue and not shock sufficiently to cause unsteadiness, but whether 110 volts is regarded as dangerous or not that quantiy of current is supposed to have killed Foster and almost killed Schulte. It is not thought there was any crossing of wires outside, as in that event there would have been evidences of fuses blowing out.

POSTMASTER IN TROUBLE.

Harry B. Gary of Sciotavale, this County, Held for Hearing.

Deputy United States Marshall Snyder of Scranton, Friday arrested and brought to Towanda, Harry B. Garey, postmaster at Sciotavale, a village in Wilmot township, near the Sullivan and Wyoming county boundaries. Postmaster Garey is charged with sending through the mails a postcard reflecting upon the character of a woman.

The alleged offense was committed on June 25, 1907. The card which has caused the trouble was of the alleged funny character which can be purchased at most any souvenir postcard stand. It was in the form of a certificate, and when filled out set forth that a certain woman was a full fledged member of the liars club, and was entitled to all the privileges.

On being arraigned before United States Commissioner John W. Mix in Towanda, Postmaster Garey entered a plea of not guilty and his father, A L. Garey, qualified as bondsman in the sum of $300 for a hearing before Commissioner Mix on Oct. 15. Postoffice Inspector H. E. Lucas is the complainant in the case.

EXCITED SUSPICION.

Two Foreigners Thought to Be Smithfield Township Robbers.

Considerable excitement was created on Tuesday of this week in the neighborhood of Saco, when a couple of foreigners, strangers were seen there. They were believed by many to be the men who on Thursday, Oct. 1, bound, gagged and robbed Mrs. David Gray, stealing $75. Chief Miller was notified the men were coming this way, and it was proposed to organize a posse and pursue the supposed desperadoes. Identification was based on the fact that one of the men who robbed Mrs. Gray talked with a foreign accent.

The men showed up in Towanda on Wednesday evening, their number augmented by another wanderer who had been encountered on the road. Yesterday morning on examination they proved to be three Polanders enroute from Elmira to Scranton. They had just one cent among them and carried cards showing they had been sent from New York by a contractor to work on the Erie railroad. The parties interested at Saco failed to show up and the men were allowed to go.

Verdict Affirmed.

By an opinion handed down in the Supreme Court at Philadelphia on Monday, Oct. 5, the Sullivan county court decision in the case of Jackson vs. Thompson was affirmed. The case was tried in November, 1906, in which it was claimed by the plaintiff for an undivided interest in the 102 acres of coal lands, located in Cherry township, Sullivan county. The jury brought in a verdict for $24,055.35 against the defendant. The case was carried to the Supreme Court where it was argued in March, 1908. On Monday of this week an opinion was handed down in the Supreme Court affirming the verdict of the jury, rendered in the courts of Sullivan county, with interest and cost which now amounts to $28,000. This amount is secured by a bond of $50,000 given by one of the Baltimore Trust companies.

Costly Fun.

Elmira lads have recently been indulging in the playful pastime of stoning the arc lights about the city and within a short time the lighting company has lost no less than 135 of these globes, costing $1.20 each, to furnish amusement for the boys. The police have been making a diligent effort to catch the youngsters, but with little success.

His Postition Stated.

I have received communications and been interrogated verbally concerning my choice for Representative in Congress. So there need be no misapprehension will say I am for Col. Charles C. Pratt. Its the first duty of a good government to protect the rights and promote the interests of its own people. The Republican party through that strenuous, intrepid leader, Theodore Roosevelt, is doing that and Taft accepts anew the duty of leading in the work of progress and reforms. The Republican party has gained its strength by quick, faithful response to the demands of the people for freedom and equality of all men (thats the policy of Lincoln and Roosevelt); for a united nation, assuring the rights of all citizens; for the elevation of labor; for an honest currency and purity and integrity in all the departments of Government. Hence I am a Republican and will vote for Pratt.
